

Phone Workers Accept New Contract at C.T.

The labor agreement, between Commonwealth Telephone Company and Communications Workers of America A.F.L.-C.I.O., was ratified by a three to one vote, and is effective from Dec. 1 to Nov. 30, 1974.

The wage package, amounting to $20 per week in the first year for the top rate and corresponding increases at lower rates, has been submitted to the wage board for its approval.

The contract also calls for increases of 3 percent plus cost of living based on the Consumer Price Index for the years 1972 and 1973.

Some of the fringe benefit improvements during the period of the three-year contract include: Improvements in Blue Cross and Blue Shield; improvements in evening and night differentials; an additional holiday; improvement in Sunday pay; pension improvement to include vested rights after 15 years' service and age 45.

UGI Rates

Luzerne County, I think appropriate action can be taken before the appropriate tribunal to stay such action pending the taking of testimony and appropriate review.

"There seems to be no doubt in my mind that the commission has already pre-judged the UGI case, which, of course, is contrary to the laws of 50 states and the Federal laws.

"Parenthetically speaking, it might be added that the pre-judging of the UGI case, and the manner in which it was held, re-creates in Pennsylvania, the infamous 'star chamber' proceedings outlawed in England."

According to information received late Monday afternoon by Atty. Brown, a pretrial conference will be held in the PUC office in Harrisburg, Jan. 24, at 10 a.m.

"I definitely will be at the conference," Mr. Brown asserted. "I believe the order granting the rate hike to UGI is only temporarily in effect for six months—and if found not legal, the people will get a rebate."

Mr. Brown said he will represent at the pre-trial conference the several protestants who have filed complaints against the rate increase. He said members of PUC's legal staff will be present, as well as attorneys for other interested parties.

"This is not over yet. Why call a meeting to discuss the case if it's all over?" was Mr. Brown's query.

He continued, "The PUC order of Dec. 15 specifically provides that all protests heretofore filed shall be in effect against temporary increases without new filing of any protests, if they are not withdrawn."

Esther Arendt Is on Academic Dean's List

Esther Arendt, daughter of Mary Arendt, Noxen, was named to the academic dean's list at the conclusion of the fall term at Alderson-Broaddus College in Philippi, W. Va. The college uses a 4.0 scale, on which a student must rank 3.50 for listing. Miss Arendt, a senior nursing student, achieved a 3.67 average.

Penn State Courses Emphasize Communication

Two courses in speech for teachers and other approved registrants will be offered during spring term at the Wilkes-Barre Campus of The Pennsylvania State University. Charles R. Meck, assistant director of Continuing Education, has announced that a three credit course in Interpersonal Communication in the Classroom will be offered beginning Jan. 8, 1972.

A five session workshop, conducted on five Saturdays from 9 to 12 noon and 1 to 4 p.m., will center upon the teacher as controller-facilitator of communication in the classroom. Various aspects of interpersonal communication and several interpersonal experiences are among the materials to be presented in this course. The use of the case method, role playing and psycho-drama, and problem-solving discussion as techniques to promote interpersonal understanding will be included. Special emphasis will be given to the diagnosis of communication difficulties in the child and adolescent, and to some subsequent remedial strategies which the classroom teacher, guidance counselor, or administrator might utilize.

Parkers

Thanksgiving when trucks and crews were hampered by the many vehicles parked illegally. In the past, warnings were given to violators, but this practice will be abandoned. Police in the townships state there will be no exceptions granted to these ordinances.

In Dallas Township, fines of not less than $5 and not more than $50 will be levied against violators of township ordinance 71-5, which was enacted primarily to aid in snow removal. Added to the fine will be a magistrate's cost of $5.

In Kingston Township, parking violation penalty is not less than $5 or more than $15. Magistrate's fees in the case could make the fines range from a minimum of $10 to a maximum of $20.

Kunkle WSCS To Meet Jan 12

The Kunkle United Methodist Church WSCS will meet at the home of Arline Updyke Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. Carol Jean Hilbert will serve as co-hostess. Dorothy Dodson will preside.

to offer a variety of methods to encourage the growth of communicative skills in students of all grade and ability levels.

Among the methods to be considered are the use of the small group to implement curriculum, lecture preparation, design of teaching packages, communication media in the classroom, simulation and case study techniques, and the adaptation of communication techniques to specific curricula. Practical classroom application will be stressed.

Enrollment in these speech classes is limited to 50 students. To insure reservation, interested persons should apply now to The Pennsylvania State University, Continuing Education Office, Hayfield House, Lehman Township, P.O. Box 1830, Wilkes-Barre.
