

Sinfonia da Camera Concert To Feature Gary Steigerwalt

Gary Steigerwalt

The Sinfonia da Camera, directed by Maestro Ferdinand Liva, will present its third concert of the season March 6 in Walsh Auditorium at College Misericordia.

Featured for the evening's performance will be concert pianist Gary Steigerwalt, a graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and one of the rising stars of the concert piano in the East.

Mr. Steigerwalt appeared at College Misericordia once before as a guest of the college's Cultural Events Committee and has been appearing since then in several music festivals and as the guest artist with numerous orchestras. He has also recorded twice for French Radio and has performed in numerous recitals under the auspices of the Pro Musicis Foundation.

Following a concert in Florida, a correspondent for the West Palm Beach Post wrote: "Steigerwalt, a Chopinesque young man, slender and sensitive in appearance, began his concert on a high note... with the 'Improvisations, op. 20' by Bela Bartok... his execution was sparkling and clean, capturing the mood of the Hungarian folk melodies that inspired the work."

For the concert at Misericordia, he will perform a selection from Mozart.

The Misericordia concert is scheduled to begin at 8:30, with tickets available at the door. The final concert of the season for the chamber orchestra will be held May 1, also at the college.

Cultural Center Schedules Organic Gardening Classes

The Back Mountain Cultural Center has announced the scheduling of additional classes of instruction, added to those already programmed for the winter-spring season. A class in organic gardening has been scheduled for an eight-week period which will be taught by Mrs. John Hibbard at her home in Bunker Hill. The organic gardening class will be a one and a half hour session beginning at 9:30 a.m. each Monday morning, beginning March 11.

Mrs. Hibbard describes her class as one which admittedly takes a one-sided approach to help things grow with emphasis on edible crops—learn to save time, money, and effort and reap large crops. Information and techniques on "putting by" the harvest for year round use will be made available. The class is one of many being sponsored by the cultural center for this season.

To register for the organic gardening class, interested persons should send a check for $12 payable to Back Mountain Cultural Center to the center at Box 129, Dallas. Those persons who are not members of the center may join by including in their check the amount for the category of membership chosen. Adult membership is $2 per person or $5 per family, or $10 patron.

Dr. Mohamed T. El-Ashry Talks at Woman's Club Tea

The Wyoming Valley Woman's Club held a tea Feb. 12 at the YM-YWCA auditorium in Wilkes-Barre. Mildred Hettinger, president of the club, welcomed members and guests.

Mrs. John Korn introduced Dr. Mohamed T. El-Ashry, a professor at Wilkes College, who spoke on "What We Can Do to Help the Environment". He showed slides depicting the effect of littering. He said he feels that clubs and citizen's groups could help in discouraging people from buying canned drinks or no-deposit bottles who then dispose of them into rivers and on highways. Mrs. Korn also introduced Joel Jones, pianist, a junior music major at Wilkes College. He played Bach, Chopin and Poulenc.

Natalie Nyhart presented six new members, Mrs. Charles Becker, Rosanna Foote, Nettie A. Kappler, Mrs. James McCullough, Claire Muth, and Mrs. Carl H. Riehl. Mrs. Hettinger greeted the new members and explained aims of the club and its part in the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Walter Height, home life chairman, called attention to literature distributed to members in connection with "Friendly Visitor and Telephone Assurance Program". She urged members to volunteer for telephoning or visiting elderly persons.

Mrs. Hettinger announced that the Luzerne County Federation of Women's Club will sponsor a "Creative Day" March 9 in the community room at Pomeroy's at the Wyoming Valley Mall. She urged members who intend to participate to contact Natalie Nyhart or Mrs. David Hettinger before March 2.

Mrs. Hettinger informed the group that the flag in the auditorium had flown over the U.S. Capitol and had been presented to the club by Congressman Daniel Flood.

Members of the tea committee were Mrs. Emory Wood and Mrs. Winfield Davis, chairmen; Frances Keeler, Mary Ichter, and Mrs. Ralph Evans. Serving at the tea tables which were decorated in a patriotic theme were Mrs. Traver Nobel, Mrs. Willard Seaman, Mrs. Merritt Hughes Sr., and Mrs. Ernest Steinhauer. The reception committee members were Grace Edgerton and Mrs. E.C. Mitchell, chairmen; Ruth Sandow, Mrs. Harry Sherman, and Mrs. Merritt Hughes Sr.

The club's next tea will be held March 12 at the YM-YWCA at 1:30 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by Ronald Rodgers and pianist.
