

Dallas Kiwanis Women's Club To Aid with Heart Screening

Dallas Kiwanis Women's Club members will assist with the heart screening tests to be given at Lake-Lehman High School at the end of March. Mrs. Donald Anthony, president, announced at a club meeting last week at the Irem Temple Country Club that the clinic will run for four days. It will include an electro cardiogram, blood sugar, blood pressure, and cholesterol tests for a fee of $5.

Mrs. Fred Anderson Sr. will be in charge of applications and reservations. Nursing service and history taking will be handled by Mrs. Leo Corbett RN, Jane Thomas RN, Mrs. Thomas O'Malia, Mrs. Charles Hofecker, Mrs. Walter Roberts, Mrs. Andrew Roan, and Pat Parry.

Volunteers are still needed and may contact Mrs. Anthony. Carol O'Malia will be in charge of the salad luncheon which the club will hold in May. Mary George is co-chairman. Other club activities include the odds and ends booth at the Back Mountain Memorial Library Auction, Mrs. George McCutcheon and Jane Thomas, co-chairmen, and the fall card party.

Ann Corbett, Dorothy Anderson and Claudette Banks were in charge of the arrangements for the recent meeting.

Mrs. Walter Roberts was installed as first vice president by Mrs. Vincent Roman.

The extent of the drug problem in the Back Mountain was described by Troopers Russell Bigus and Carl Allen. According to the odds and ends booth at the Back Mountain Memorial Lib-

Philharmonic to Conclude Performances for Season

The Northeastern Pennsylvania Philharmonic Orchestra will conclude its 1973-74 season with a concert March 22 in Irem Temple, Wilkes-Barre, and March 23 at the Masonic Temple. Both performances will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Guest soloist will be Aaron Rosand, violin virtuoso.

1974-75 season. Present subscribers who have not renewed their membership for the 1974-75 season to date are requested to do so before the new subscription drive is opened to the public March 7.

Tickets may be purchased through the Philharmonic's Avoca office, the Spruce Record Shop, or the box office. The Philharmonic would appreciate cooperation of all current season ticketholders who will be unable to attend either the Scranton or Wilkes-Barre concerts. They are asked to return their tickets to the office so that they may be used by others who are unable to obtain tickets. They should be returned to the Philharmonic Society of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Box 71, Avoca, Pa. 18641.

The program, under the baton of conductor Thomas Michalak, will feature Bedrich Smetana's "Overture to the Bartered Bride," Niccolo Paganini's "Concerto for violin and orchestra in D Major, Op. 6, No. 1," Camille Saint-Saens' "Havanaise for violin and orchestra," and his "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Op. 28 for violin and orchestra," Anatole Liadov's "Kikimora" and Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov's "Capriccioso Espagnol."

A post-concert reception sponsored by the Philharmonic Women's League of Scranton will be held at the American Legion, 415 N. Washington Ave. Mrs. Joseph Katusak is in charge of arrangements.

Tickets for this concert will be free for new subscribers for the

Misericordia Males Fill Out Children's Theatre Production

For the first time in the 50-year history of College Misericordia, Misericordia Players director Walter C.J. Andersen has easy access to men for theatrical productions.

All three will appear in the Misericordia Players' forthcoming Children's Theatre production of "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Mr. Messersmith and Mr. Bulford will embark upon their theatrical careers, perhaps unglamorously, in the role of the cow, with no announced designation as to who will play which end. Mr. Gonzales will have a starring role as the giant, who Mr. Andersen describes as "prone to human frailties, such as a tendency to gain extra weight by eating too many humans."

The original production, featuring numerous songs created by Mr. Andersen, will be presented in Walsh Auditorium at College Misericordia, March 22, 23, 24, 29, 30, 31. All performances will be given at 2 p.m., with a special evening performance scheduled for 7:30, March 29.

Tickets will be available at the door, but persons interested in bringing groups to the play should make advance reservations by contacting Mr. Andersen at College Misericordia.

Mr. Andersen is encouraging interested persons to call early since Children's Theatre productions are traditionally sold out.

Theater Appoints New Assistant

The appointment of Joel Fischman as administrative assistant was announced recently by Alfred Groh, director of the Wilkes College Theater.

Mr. Fischman, a 1973 Wilkes graduate, will assist in coordinating schedules for departmental and student-directed productions, and organize backstage crews for productions and other events held in the Center for the Performing Arts.

To relieve some of the theater's workload, he will also assist in coordinating the Summer Theatre Workshop.

Back Mt. YWCA Offers Workshop

The Back Mountain YWCA Homemaker's Holiday program will conduct a 4-session Easter decorations workshop beginning March 19 and ending April 9.

These classes will be held at Prince of Peace Church, Main Street, Dallas, each Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon.

The Easter decorations workshop will feature egg decorating, Easter centerpiece and other Easter ideas.

Anyone wishing to register for this class can do so by calling Marilyn Gregorski, Dallas, 675-2877.
