

ARC Awards Grants For 4 Local Projects

Grants totaling $872,056 have been awarded by the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) for four projects in Northeastern Pennsylvania, according to Ernest D. Preate, president of the Economic Development Council of Northeastern Pennsylvania (EDCNP).

Friendship House in Scranton has been awarded a grant of $335,000 to assist in the construction of a day treatment center. The project will enable nearly 40 additional patients to receive services on an out-patient basis. In addition, the age group of patients served will be increased from the ages of six to fourteen to three to eighteen years. The remainder, with a total cost of $1,265,000, is being funded by the National Institute of Mental Health, the Pennsylvania Department of Community Affairs and local sources.

An ARC grant of $248,000 has been approved to assist in the construction of a sewage treatment plant and sewer lines for the borough of Mount Pocono, and will promote development of the Mount Pocono area. The total cost of the project is $843,000, with the Environmental Protection Agency, and state and local sources providing the remainder of the funds.

Penn State Dean's List Names 15 Area Students

More than 5,000 undergraduates qualified for the dean's list at the Pennsylvania State University for the spring term, which ended in May.

In releasing the list, it was noted that of the 5,133 students who qualified for the dean's list at the University Park campus, 1,606 completed the term with a perfect 4.00 average.

An average of 3.50 or better is required for the dean's list. Among those named to the dean's list from the local area are:

Impersonator Questions Old Trucksville Squabble

Mrs. Francis Dougherty, 179 W. Mount Airy Road, Trucksville, told the Post that on July 25 a woman appeared at her front door identifying herself as Dorothy Gregory, wife of the magistrate, Earl Gregory. The woman, according to Mrs. Dougherty, asked for information concerning a neighborhood disagreement which had taken place about a year and a half ago.

A petition at that time, signed by 16 neighbors restricting the actions of the Doughertys has since been resolved. Mrs. Dougherty answered several questions asked by the woman, and then gave her an article which appeared in the Post at the time of the incident. The woman left the house and walked down the hill toward Pioneer Avenue, Mrs. Dougherty related.

The following day Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty appeared at District Magistrate Gregory's office asking why Mrs. Gregory visited the Dougherty home and what was in the offering. Magistrate Gregory did not know anything about the visit and was certain it was not his wife. The description of the woman did not fit Mrs. Gregory and his wife's name is Patricia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dougherty then called the Kingston Township Police Department and Chief Paul Sabol interviewed them at their home. Chief Sabol reported that the matter is presently under investigation. He also said that no complaints had been lodged recently by either side in the long neighborhood spat.

One neighbor, who asked that her name not be used, stated that things have been very quiet in the area for a long time and she could not understand why anyone would want to start things up again. As far as she was concerned the Doughertys were leaving the neighbors alone and vice versa.

Mrs. Gregory was amazed that anyone would want to impersonate her and stated that she did not even know the Dougherty couple.

Wilkes College Completes New Student Union Center

A new flavor has been added to campus life at Wilkes College with the completion of the new Student Union Building, dubbed very quickly by the students as "sub."

Now dormitory and commuter students will have the opportunity to exchange ideas outside of the classroom, unifying the two groups, while the incoming freshmen can mingle with the upperclassmen in a congenial atmosphere.

Located next to the Commons, the only combination snack bar and game room on campus, the idea of the Student Union Building became a reality after years of anticipation with the conversion of Church Hall to student use.

Church Hall, formerly the First Church of Christ, Scientist, is one of the historical South Franklin Street landmarks, acquired by Wilkes College in the middle 1960's.

Because Wilkes was unable to appropriate funds for the building's preservation due to the school's extensive floor recovery costs, the students took it upon themselves to transform the lecture room where many of them had spent long hours in classes and examinations.

Under the leadership of Pete Jadesis, last year's student government president, and recipient of the "Outstanding Graduate of the Year Award" for the class of 1974, the old hall is still a reality on campus.

Wilkes students contributed much time and effort in this major project, sacrificing their weekends to aid in the completion of this task.

The development of Church Hall from a lecture room to a student center was in two stages. The first is a lounge area on the first floor for the students desiring a break between classes. In addition to chairs, television, stereo equipment and dispensing machines, a magazine stand with the latest publications is available.

Second and the long term stage consists of developing the basement area. Considerable work has been done under the auspices of the Student Union Board and the final touches will be added in September. The board has been created to administer the game room in Pickering Hall, the Commons recreation room, and the Student Union Building. A total of 30 students are involved in the maintenance of the three recreation areas.

In announcing the opening of the long-awaited center, Wilkes students were reminded of all the hard work that was put into keeping the structure a vital part of the campus life and of their responsibility in assisting with the upkeep of the building.

Original Schedule Revised For Pocono Modified Race

The Pocono Modified Championship, originally scheduled for Aug. 23-25, will be held as a one-day event Aug. 25 and the purse for the event, originally set at $30,000, has been increased to $40,000, according to Dr. Joseph R. Mattioli, chief executive officer of the vacation area track. The $10,000 saved by the shortened schedule will be passed on to the drivers in the form of the expanded purse.

Dr. Mattioli cited scheduling conflicts with other area tracks as the reason for shortening the championship. "We received a number of calls from short-track operators complaining that our running Friday and Saturday would put a hardship on their weekend shows. We can understand the trouble a driver would have trying to qualify here and race at another track the same day. So we decided to change our original format to accommodate our weekly promoters and to pass on the savings of the shortened schedule to the drivers. We feel that these changes will make the promoter and driver happy and also insure the fans of seeing their favorite driver at Pocono."

Under the revised schedule, the track will be open for registration and inspection Aug. 24, 7:00 a.m.-10:00 p.m., with practice 10:00 a.m.-12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m.-5:00 p.m. The schedule for Aug. 25th will include registration and inspection from 7:00 a.m. on, practice 8:00 a.m.-10:00 a.m., time trials 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. and the green flag at 2:00 p.m.

"By these changes" Dr. Mattioli stated, "it will be possible for all the Friday and Saturday promoters to get their shows in and allow adequate time for drivers to attend our show."

On August 15, 1776, Mr. Wilson was suddenly fired upon by an Indian. He escaped to his log cabin, which was attacked by four Indians. He was a good shot and finally killed or seriously wounded one of the assailants, who thereupon withdrew, and Wilson escaped to the Valley.
