

Dallas School Board Receives Bus Petition

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Owens, Shavertown, presented the Dallas School Board with a petition signed by 53 residents of the Mt. Airy Road section, concerning the school bus stop at the intersection of Mt. Airy Road and Pioneer Avenue.

Mrs. Owens submitted a complaint about the hazards at the bus stop. She said 50 students, all kindergarten and elementary, are picked up at the stop, and are in danger because of the lack of visibility for drivers. Two stone walls nearby could be a death trap. Mrs. Owens stated, if a car or bus slid on an icy road. She asked for suggestions from the board concerning protection for those children who had to wait for the bus.

James Brokenshire, assistant superintendent, replied that members of the school staff, Kingston Township officials, and officials from the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation (PennDOT) had met at the site and they all agreed that it was a very dangerous place for a bus stop. The PennDOT officials said that they would submit a report, but it was thought that one of the banks would have to be removed for the safety of the children.

It was suggested that the children wait on the upper part of Mt. Airy Road until the bus arrives and then come down the hill and board the bus. It was also suggested that a guard be hired temporarily to wait with the children until they board the bus.

Some of the children have to wait half an hour and they sometimes run out and play in the road.

Mr. Brokenshire and Dr. Linford Werkheiser replied that the matter would be turned over to the transportation committee and that some immediate action would be taken.

Kingston Class of 1939 Holds 35th Class Reunion

The Kingston Township High School class of 1939 held their 35th reunion Nov. 30 at the Irem Temple Country Club.

A happy hour was held from 6 to 7 p.m., after which the group assembled for a class photograph and then adjourned to the lounge room where dinner was served. Tables were decorated in the holiday motif.

The invocation was given by Wallace Perrin.

Following dinner, chairlady Sara Gregory greeted the class and presented gifts of appreciation to her committee.

A program followed with greetings and remarks read by Larry Isaacs from a letter by class president, Robert Frizges, who was unable to attend because of illness. Notes and letters were read from other classmates.

Prizes were awarded and each member of the class was presented with a reunion memento.

A short business meeting was held to select the committee for the next reunion to be held in five years. This was followed by a showing of slides of the last reunion and pictures of class members and events of school days.

Visiting and dancing were enjoyed by the classmates.

On Dec. 7, Cadette Girl Scout Troop 642 assisted the Dallas Junior Women's Club in their annual Christmas Store for children. Three other troops also helped with this project. Earlier this year the troop helped to make some of the gifts that were made for this special service program. For Christmas the girls have decided to make tree decorations from scraps. A tree and the ornaments they make will be taken to the homes of two or three shut-ins in the Back Mountain.

Brownie Troop 654 of Dallas is busy working on its selected Christmas project. On Dec. 11, the finished gifts will be taken to Carpenter Nursing Home. On Dec. 18, the girls will hold a Christmas party. All the gifts the girls bring in on that day will be given to a needy family.

Lehman Brownie troop 641 had a story and game Thanksgiving party. They also went on a very interesting field trip to the Golden Quality Ice Cream plant. The girls saw how ice cream is made and packaged. As a special surprise the troop was presented with some ice cream before they left.

Last week the girls painted wooden tree ornaments.

On Dec. 7, Representative George Hasay presented the troop with a state flag. The ceremony was conducted at the Lehman Elementary School and refreshments were served after the presentation.

On Nov. 22, Junior Girl Scout Troop 348 of Sweet Valley held a candlelight investiture ceremony and welcomed Lori Weston, Liz Lake and Lori Marsh into the troop.

Each girl was given her finished November project, a ceramic horn of plenty.
