Resident blasts business 'robbery'

Dear Sirs:

Robbery is a criminal offense... except when performed by a big business conglomerate! If a man pointed a gun at you and took any sum of money, you could have him arrested! However, when we have businessmen stealing money from you there are no arrests involved. To wit: the 1974-1975 rip-offs... first meat, then potatoes, then gasoline and oil, and lately the sugar and the food rip-offs.

There are policemen involved where the person uses a gun, but when big-business performs the rip-off without a gun nobody really cares... not even the Congressman, the State Senator, or the local mayor, who are paid by we citizens to "protect"!

There is no sugar shortage: the warehouses are busting at the seams! Walk across the Mexican border with 50 lbs. and it costs you about $5. Prices are predicted to go up another 11 percent before the end of the year; yet unemployment is rising; so where is the increased cost to the producer!

Somebody should be asking some very important questions... but who? We have no one to protect or intercede for us!

Game protector raps hearing coverage

Dear Sir,

A hearing was held at Magistrate Harvey's office in Dallas on Jan. 30 at 7 p.m. Arlene Karalunas, 310 Grove St., Kingston, was charged with attempting to take a deer in closed season. The prosecutor was Game Protector Edward R. Gdosky of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The following testimony was given by the Commonwealth's witnesses: Allen Roche testified at 12:45 a.m. while pulling into his driveway he noticed a car spotlighting the fields near the Stefanwicz home. He heard a shot and heard two car doors slam and the car taking off toward the police chief's home. He got back into his car and saw the other car heading toward Sorber Mountain.

Chief of Police Stefanwicz testified at 12:45 he came home from patrol and his son came in a few minutes later. They heard a shot, looked out the window and saw a car turning off a spotlight and coming toward their home.

PLAN BAKE SALE -- Mary Ann Lozier, (left) Barbara Frey and Marie Naperkoski plan Dallas Mother's Club Bake Sale to be held Saturday.

Mother's Club plans bake sale Saturday

The Dallas Mother's Club is having a bake sale Saturday at the Dallas Academy.

The newly-founded club is organized to see that all Dallas students, both boys and girls, are recognized in their senior year with a blazer or jacket.

Mrs. Roberts installed

Mrs. Walter Roberts was installed recently as president of Dallas Kiwanis Women's Club. She succeeds Mrs. Donald Anthony.

The ceremony was held at Irem Temple Country Club, Dallas, with Mrs. Ernest Thomas serving as installing officer.

Other new officers were Mrs. Andrew Room first vice president; Mrs. Walter Kozenchak, second vice president; Mrs. Adolph Grabenstetter, recording secretary; Mrs. Leo Nawroth, Treasurer and Marjorie Wolensky, a senior at Lake-Lehman High School, will assume the role of Roland in the annual Lake-Lehman musical. Margie, daughter of Anna Wolensky, Chase, is active in cheerleading, hockey, GAA, Student Council, and chorus. She had a leading role in last year's junior play and took part in previous musicals.

could have been charged along with other charges. Finally he pleaded with the magistrate that he felt the defendant suffered enough by having attorney fees, damage to the under carriage if her car had newspaper publicity prior to the case obtained from the magistrate's office.

The magistrate agreed with the defense counsel that the defendant had paid penalty without a game law fine and found her not guilty. One of the Back Mountain papers stated that the magistrate found her innocent due to lack of evidence, which was not what my witnesses, or myself heard at the hearing. I feel that enough evidence was presented at the hearing to find the defendant guilty of a Section 730 which states if an auto registration is secured at a violation, the person owning the auto is responsible until a sworn affidavit is given by the owner stating person or persons driving the auto at the time of the violation were other than himself. Also, at the hearing, the defendant never took the witness stand, nor was any testimony given by her.
