

Musser, Jagger exchange marriage vows

Miss Ellen Fehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Musser, Jr., 785 Fairview Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., and Richard Gary Jagger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Jagger, Hop Bottom, Pa., exchanged marriage vows Saturday, April 19, in Christ Lutheran Church, Gettysburg.

Rev. Donald Olson, pastor, assisted by Rev. John Topolewski, pastor of Trucksville Methodist Church, officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony. Dr. Dexter Weikel presided at the organ and Dr. Daniel Sandstedt the soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, handmade her gown of candlelight polyester crepe. The gown was styled with a high fitted, fine tucked bodice, square neckline, satin yoke and full sleeves with satin cuffs. The skirt ended in a chapel train. Her full length illusion veil was attached to a satin headpiece.

Attendants for the couple were Mrs. Forest Craver, Washington, D.C., sister of the bride, and Alan Jagger, Hop Bottom, Pa., brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Gettysburg, Pa. The newlyweds are residing at the United Methodist Parsonage in Centerville, Pa.

The bride, a 1967 graduate of Gettysburg High School, received her bachelor of arts degree in Spanish from Albright College, Reading. She earned her Master of Arts in Teaching from the School of International Training, Brattleboro, Vt., and attended the University of Valencia, Spain. She has completed a teaching assignment of English to foreign students at the School for International Training in Brattleboro.

The groom is a graduate of Mountain View High School and holds a degree in English from Dickinson College, Carlisle, and a Master of Divinity from Drew University, Madison, N.J. He also has earned a master of Arts in Teaching from the School of International Training, Brattleboro. He attended the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and is serving as minister of the United Methodist Charge of Centerville, Pa., which includes Methodist Churches in East Dallas, Dymond Hollow and Centerville, Pa.

Wyoming Sem prepares May Day activities

Wyoming Seminary is preparing for May Day, May 10. Skits are being practiced and various acrobatic and dance routines are being refined.

May Day will take place during alumni day activities on the Kingston prep school campus, and alumni will again be invited to view the 2 p.m. program, in the North Maple Avenue gymnasium.

The traditional student program will open with the entrance of the May court and the crowning of the May Queen by the runner-up vote-getter. The May court is made up of the seven top vote-getters in the seminary May Queen election.

The program to follow crowning ceremonies is performed in the queen's honor. Co-chairing the May program are seniors, April Krajewski, Wilkes-Barre, and Jan Morris West Pittston. The two are both May Queen candidates as well.

They are assisted by Mary Shafer, Kingston, in charge of the trampoline performances; Tracy Innes, Shavertown, heading up floor apparatus routines; and Robbie Bravman, Kingston, tumbling.

Wyoming Seminary dean of student activities Bradford Garrity will serve as advisor to the program.

Queen candidates, in addition to Krajewski and Morris, are Pearl Ann Butera, West Pittston; Cornelia Conyngham, Trucksville; Cynthia Hansen, Dallas; Clare McCarthy, Dallas; and Yvonne Pearsall, Dallas.

Other activities taking place on the seminary campus May 10 will include a special groundbreaking ceremony for the school's new Performing Arts Center; the traditional alumni banquet, in honor of the 50-year reunion class; student-led tours of campus; a noon luncheon; and special, individual reunion-class get-togethers.
