

Kiwanis Women hear crash story

Dallas Kiwanis Women's Club met recently to hear Thomas Schmide speak on the spring psuedo airplane crash in Kingston Township which proved such a top news story.

Schmide, who heads Kingston Twp. Ambulance Assn., is a C.P.R. and has saved many lives with the association.

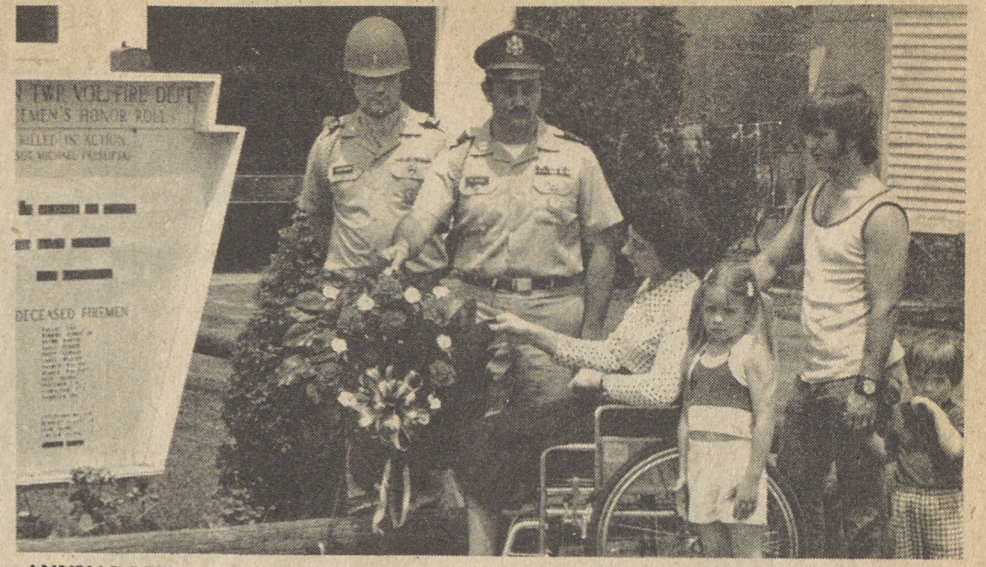

Schmide was asked to return again to speak and demonstrate life-saving procedures. He was introduced by program chairman, Mrs. Andrew Roan.

A birthday gift given by Mrs. Fred Anderson, Sr., was won by Mrs. James Huston.

Mrs. Walter Roberts presided and asked for participation in a number of community projects.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Vincent Roman. Tables were arranged by Mrs. W. Anthony Fulton and Mrs. Robert Dolbeor.

Misericordia is designated bicentennial college

College Misericordia has been designated a bicentennial college by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration in Washington, D.C.

D.B. Strasburger, regional director of the Bicentennial Administration, confirmed Misericordia's designation by letter last week indicating that area U.S. Senators and Representatives have already been notified as well as the State Bicentennial Commission.

A certificate of official recognition will follow, according to Strasburger. The certificate and a bicentennial flag will be presented to the college in special ceremonies, he indicated.

The designation as a bicentennial college also means that Misericordia may now use the official bicentennial symbol on all printed materials referring to the college's planned bicentennial program. Rules governing the use of the symbol are outlined in a specific public law.

College Misericordia applied for the designation in April after forming a Bicentennial Committee on campus and creating several activities and programs for local participation.

According to Dr. Louis Maganzin, chairman of the history department at Misericordia and spokesman for the committee, the college has outlined three programs corresponding to the national bicentennial guidelines of heritage, festival (present), and horizons (future).

Under Heritage '76, the college will create a lecture-excursion series that will explore the Revolutionary history of Wyoming Valley.

A continuing education course dealing with the same subject will also be implemented.

Under Festival U.S.A., the college will sponsor a fine arts workshop and will create a replica of the American Revolutionary war flag through special plantings on campus.

For Horizons '76, a lecture-discussion excursion series on the entire history of the valley will be implemented, featuring such topics as "Frontier in Flames: Wyoming Valley During the Revolution," "The Ethnic Legacy of Wyoming Valley," "The Wyoming Valley: A case Study of a Northern Society in pre-Civil War America," "King Coal and the Rise of the Coal Barons in Wyoming Valley," and "The Role of Wyoming Valley in the Industrial Revolutions."

Harveys Lake elementary PTA organizes

The Lake Elementary PTA was officially organized last Wednesday evening with the election of the executive committee. The officers elected were: Jeannine H. Wood, president; Joyce Youren, vice president; Maggie Rambus, recording secretary; Debbie Rinken, corresponding secretary and Joyce Edwards, treasurer.

Mrs. Wood introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. George Ritchie of Wilkes-Barre, present secretary of the state PTA. Mrs. Ritchie spoke on the benefits and purpose of having a PTA and pointed out that the mutual co-operation of the parents and teachers for the betterment of the students is the primary concern.

At the initial meeting were members of the faculty of the Lake building and Charles James, the elementary principal.

The members voted to have the annual dues at $1.50 per person. It was also determined that the officers shall be elected by ballot annually in the month of May, assuming their official duties following the close of the annual meeting.

The executive committee met this week to appoint committee chairmen.
