Six games were played in the Back Mountain Girls' Softball League with the Orange Rangers upsetting the previously unbeaten Shavertown Red Sox 10-1 behind the pitching of Lynn Busch. Lynn fanned 15 Red Sox batters. The Lehman Angels moved to within a half game of first place with a 7-2 win over the Dallas Royals in other Division I action.

In Division II games, Lehman Reds downed the Trucksville Giants 11-4; Dallas Phillies beat Dallas Cubs 9-3; Trucksville Giants defeated the Shavertown Mets 11-4; and Dallas Phillies dumped the Orange Astros 24-6.

Vicki Martin, Heidi Anderson, Diane Gdovin, Tammie Hons, and Lori Sorber kept the Red Sox attack. Karen Cook gained the mound win over Chris Zuba in a well played game, as Jackie Williams

Debbie Barto out-hurled Lori English as the Reds remained on top in Division II play. The Reds were led by the hitting of Lisa Allardyce, Debbie Barto, June Yankowski, and Linda McEntee with all getting two hits each. Ellen Adams, Debbie Barto and Sherrie Sutton socked doubles for the Reds, while Barbara Wallace led the Giants with a double. The Phillies won two games to move up in the standings as Sue Banks and Debbie Kanaar pitched victories. ## Richards on Sports

By LEE RICHARDS
With the Summer just about reaching the midway point, it's now tournament time at Irem Temple Country Club. Saturday will be the qualifying round for the club championship in the "A", "B", "C" and "D" Divisions. Only players with a current handicap of 0 to 9 can qualify for the "A" title. Lance Hungerford has won the title the last two years and must be regarded as the favorite at the present time. When Lance copped the title in 1973 many observers felt it was a fluke, but he backed up his first crown by winning in a romp last year.

Don Stein will defend his "B" crown and could be in the championship flight when the golfers tee it up Saturday morning with the 16 low players making the "A" flight.

Jim Balmer is the defending "C" winner, while Dave Hughes Sr. is the man to beat for "D" laurels.

Meanwhile, Lance's stiffest competition will again come from the likes of R.J. Bachman, Tom Gauntlett, Jr., Bill Newman, Rollie Schmidt, R.F. Bachman, Jim Alexander, Ed Rome and "Roberto" Kopp. Former winners in the group are Kopp, Schmidt, and both Bachmans. Newman has been the runner-up on several occasions.

Hungerford told us last week that he's hitting the ball better now than he ever has. This could mean trouble.

Alexander was medalist last year with a fine even par 72.

Tournament will be match play again. CLIPBOARD NOTES:

Irem Golf Association Cup hasn't been settled yet, but Rich Disque, Jr. and his partner Charlie Prece have advanced to the finals.

Lloyd Werneka and Bob Norman have to play Andre Billinge and Gordon Vivian for the right to play Prece and Disque for the Cup. All of the six are playing below their handicaps which should make for a good final.

While we didn't see the ball go in the cup Sunday afternoon when Past Potentate Tom Reese scored his hole-in-one on the 17th hole, we did enjoy his little dance. We were confronted with a bunker shot on the 16th, when Ed Rome called out that the ball was going down the side of the green and looked close. Rome kept calling for the ball to go in. Which it did. Rome was my playing partner but he wasn't too concerned with our bunker shot???

Reese hit a nine iron on the par 3 hole which plays to about 135 yards from the bottom tee. Rounding out the foursome were Andre Billinge, Jim Brace and Mike Nardone.

Our congratulations to the "Moose" on his Ace. We're wondering when he's going to take care of the golfers who waited for the customary refreshments???

Many weird things have happened on the golf course, but we were part of two dandies recently that are worth repeating. First we were playing in a "better ball" match approaching the par five 13th hole. We hit a good second shot. Our playing partner hit a good second shot, too. I thought I was away and punched a wedge three feet from the pin. You guessed it. Wrong ball—out of the hole.

Meanwhile, our opponent came out of the woods and was on the green in four with a stroke. He proceeded to knock his putt two feet from the cup. My partner then three-putted.

Our opponent stroked his putt by the cup and had a tough putt coming back for the tie. As he stroked the ball his putter blade hit the ball twice. Two more shots and we won the hole???

The other weirdo came on the 18th tee. We stood there waiting for one of the longest hitters in Wyoming Valley to crunch his tee shot. He gave a couple of pumping motions, looked down the fairway, took the club back and — zap! He swung so hard that his club head wnet under the ball and popped it about 20-feet straight up. The ball came down and bounced about a foot behind the tee. It's the shortest drive we've ever seen that didn't hit a tree or something.

Big Bob Bachman, who had his problems winning matches lately, rapped in a 12-foot putt on the par five 13th last week for an eagle three. Bob is always good for three or four eagles a season.
