Jackson Twp. grants extension of time to Fielding

Jackson Township supervisors approved an extension of time for John Fielding for completion of the work on the roads in Fieldcrest so they can be taken over by the township.

The approval for the extension was granted following Township Engineer Ray Radamski's report that he had inspected the work and felt Fielding was actively engaged in completing the repairs as specified by the supervisors. He recommended that the supervisors extend the Sept. 30 deadline so the developer would have no problems when the work is completed. The time was extended to as long as the weather permits for blacktopping which is usually Oct. 15 or Oct. 30.

A resident on Newhart Road stated that part of the road is on his property. He asked what the supervisors planned to do about it. He explained that after he had his property surveyed several days later the stakes were removed and township graders came over on part of his frontage.

He is going to have it surveyed again during the next week. Radamski stated the road appears to be in the right place. Township solicitor Blythe Evans recommended that after the property is surveyed the resident and his surveyor should meet with Ray Radamski to discuss any problems. If a problem does exist, supervisors will act on the advice of the solicitor.

The supervisors voted to send the new part-time patrolman to the Northeast Training School at Wyoming which begins in January and continues for three months. During that time they will reimburse him for his salary lost on his regular job as well as $175 for serving as part-time policeman at night. He will also be reimbursed for any special equipment needed for the training.

Felix Niedjaco asked what would be done about snow removal on state roads in the township if the state was not going to pay overtime and remove snow only between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. He asked if the township would plow the roads. Millie Hogoboom, chairman, explained that this was not a township responsibility. Radamski stated the state would not appreciate the township removing the snow and that the insurance would not cover township vehicles in the event of an accident.

Helen Haley, Fieldcrest, asked if a request had been made for school bus signs. Radamski reported that the request had been made and that the Transportation Committee of Lake-Lehman School was coming out to inspect whether or not school bus signs were necessary.

Mrs. Hogoboom reported that Pennsylvania DER had sent a copy of the service contract authorizing payment of 25 percent now and 25 percent upon completion of the costs for the township sewage feasibility study. Mrs. Hogoboom also reported that the township's advertisement for cable TV brought no response. Contact was made with the Back Mountain Telecable Co. but they are not interested in going into the township at the present time.

A letter was received from the DER explaining their program over the past year in monitoring the blasts at American Asphalt. The letter was in answer to Atty. Blythe Evans correspondence with them. The supervisors were not completely satisfied with the monitoring by DER and instructed Atty. Evans to write again to the DER and explain that the township was not satisfied with the monitoring as described.

Request from Family Service Association for a township contribution to their HELP program was tabled until a later date.

Library celebrates 30th anniversary

October 9th isn't exactly an important date to most people, but to those who support the Back Mountain Memorial Library it has a certain significance.

At 2 p.m. on Oct. 9, 1945, the library opened its doors to the public for the first time. Of course, it wasn't the library as we know it now—the children's annex was still a private home, and only the first floor of the library's main building was used to house books; still, the purpose of the library remains the same, even though its appearance may have changed somewhat.

Many programs and projects begun right after the library was opened are still with us today. For example, the "Friends of the Library" began in 1945. Anyone can become a "Friend" by giving a donation to the Library, and of course such donations help to keep the Library's doors open, as they have done for the past thirty years.

The present-day library Book Club had its origins in the two book clubs in existence in the Back Mountain area before the library was founded. These two clubs were combined soon after the library opened and all Book Club members undertook to purchase a book a year for the library.

Now, with monthly meetings October through May and a very active Book Selection Committee, the Book Club provides interesting programs and a varied, continually changing selection of books for its members.

The "Children's Story Hour" was a weekly event at the Library back in the 1940s and is still going strong today, meeting every Wednesday morning during the school year.

And, last but not least is the Library's "Shut-In" program, which has been quietly carried on for the past twenty years. Run now by two volunteers, Mrs. Charles Miner and Mrs. Anthony Sharp, this service consists of taking books every week or two to those people who are too infirm to go to the library themselves. The library staff is always interested in hearing about any person who has need of such a service.

The library is available to all Back Mountain residents. All are encouraged to take advantage. (For more on Library history see page four.)

'Up with People' entertain here

ternational folklore. These young entertainers who will be housed by local residents are students from many countries and states.

Tickets are available at Evans Drug Store, Shavertown; Gallery of Sound, Mall and Narrows stores; and Book and Record Mark, Wilkes-Barre.

This presentation is being sponsored by the Dallas Junior Woman's Club. Mrs. Charles Hillard is president. Mrs. William Davies and Mrs. Evan Bonawitz are chairman and co-chairman of this event.

Hunlock Twp. requires licenses

Hunlock Township residents have been advised that all solicitors or peddlers who want to sell merchandise in the township must be licensed.

At the present time, only one license is valid. The license was issued to the Independent Girls Softball League to sell an item or raise money for the purchase of equipment.

It has been brought to the attention of the Hunlock Township Office that a national sales organization representative stated that the company purchased a license so that all of their salespersons can sell in the township. No such license has been issued.

Residents are urged, for their own protection, to ask or demand all solicitors or peddlers to produce a copy of the license that has been issued before they allow any salesperson to enter their home.

Each license indicates the date of issue, expiration date, name and address of the salesperson, the year, model, make, color, and license number of vehicles to be used, and is signed by the salesperson and person issuing the permit.
