

AUXILIARY GIFT—The Shavertown Fire Company Auxiliary officers are shown presenting the Luzerne County Bi-centennial Flag to the Shavertown Fire Company. The flag is to let people know the company is ready to participate in the forth coming Bi-centennial year of events. Auxiliary officers in the picture are Vivian Newcomb, president; Alice Dorosky, treasurer; and Rose Rinchimer, vice president. Absent at time of picture was the secretary, Eleanor Frederick. Accepting the flag on behalf of the Fire Co. are Ken Biesel, president and Ted Newcomb, chief.

Everyone knows that we get more than our fair share of company and the truth of the matter is we love it. But there are times when enough is enough. So I've decided that when I have had enough, I'm going to hang cloves of garlic around the house and soak stockfish in the bath tub for days. It will be so bad even we won't stay.

Belated birthday greetings to Debbie Maccerielli and Joan Johns. Both celebrated their birthdays Oct. 31.

Congratulations to Donald and "Miss Charlotte" Watchlonis. This past week the couple honored a wedding anniversary.

One of Oak Hill's honorary couples Jack and Susan Kerrigan, Philadelphia, announced the birth of their first child, a boy.

Sincere sympathy to two fine families, the Bolgers and the Millers. To Jim and Jane Bolger upon the death of James Bolger, Sr. and to Caroline and Francine Miller upon the death of Henry Miller.

Members of 1975 Back Mountain National League All Stars received their sharp looking jackets this week. As a mother of one of these All Stars, I know how thrilled the boys are and I can't help but remember the joy and excitement of those games.

Sorry to report that Geri Bartz is a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Friends and neighbors wish you a speedy recovery, Geri.

Some people go hunting and return with a pheasant, duck or whatever is in season. Charlie Batka came home with a pumpkin...I'm leaving that one alone.

On the other hand Rocky's father, who is of Polish descent, wished to clarify that his window box isn't really a bath tub, it's a swimming hole for Italian flamingos.

Last week, as my son Louis was delivering the Sunday papers, he lost a pair of wire cutters, somewhere in the lower circle. If anyone found them please call 639-5759.

Sorry to learn that Mrs. Dawe was injured in a fall two weeks ago.

The Osborne entertained Noel, Kaye, Mark and Mathew Johnson, of Pittsburgh for the weekend.

Our condolences are extended to Judy Burke upon the death of her grandmother.

Birthday greetings to Mrs. Debra Rinken Sharpe, one of Lake Lehman's fabulous kindergarten teachers. Mrs. Sharpe will celebrate a birthday Nov. 7.

Harry and Betty Marquis will honor their 30th wedding anniversary Nov. 3. The very best to a nice couple.

Gate of Heaven's School of Religion will again sponsor a paper drive the weekend of Dec. 6 and 7.

Best wishes to James Seagrave Daley who will blow out 8 candles Nov. 6; to Kathy Leonard her birthday Nov. 2 and to Amy John 8 years old, November 4.

If after your doorbell stopped ringing on Halloween, you happened to look out and saw a six pack of beer walking by; the flying nun or two out houses, I hope, you didn't panic. It was only neighbors joining other neighbors at Ed and Marie Belasco's annual Halloween party.

Oak Hill

About two hours after the party began, a covered wagon pulled up at the patio door and to everyone's surprise Fred and Dolores Mitchell and Charlie and Marge Went (former residents) joined the happy gathering.

Just the other day several neighbors commented on how well children are behaving this Halloween season compared to other years. In fact some asked me to make note to congratulate them in this column.

But here is two days after Halloween and these same people wish to retract their comments. It seems kids were out soaping and egg throwing the night following Halloween. I can't figure it out because the residents of Oak Hill are more generous with candy and money. Maybe next year the parents should soap up bicycles and throw eggs at wagons and doll carriages.

State highway employees early in the week
