Oak Hill

by Bridgette Correale
While everyone was politicizing for their favorite candidate, poor Tom Smith was ribbed for the outfit he wore on election day.
As Marie Ritts said, "Anyone who wears brown and white check jacket, brown tie, brown shoes and 'green' pants desires to be teased." To top off the day, Tom's wife Irene, unknowingly came down to vote and added her comments. I doubt very much if Tom will show next election day.
Congratulations to Lynn Ritts for placing first in the fifth grade level of the Bell Telephone Pioneer Art contest.

Belated birthday greetings to Louise Jones who celebrated a birthday Nov. 2.
Ray and Julie Iwanowski enjoyed the weekend visiting with Fred and Dolores Mitchell in the suburbs of Philadelphia.
Eileen Marquis traveled from Westchester, New York to visit with her parents Betty and Harry.
Belated birthday greetings to Paula Remplowicz who celebrated her eighth birthday Nov. 4 and to Molly Boyle her sixth birthday November 8.
Nov. 9 was a big day in the Ritts household, Marie enjoyed a birthday and a wedding anniversary. Congratulations.

Sorry to report that Mildred Espen is a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.
The very best to Alex and Annette Rebar who will celebrate their 38th wedding anniversary Nov. 18.
Happy to note that Geri Bartz is recuperating at home after being a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.
Birthday greetings to Danny Haefele who will enjoy his 12th birthday this week.
Several neighbors have already ordered their Christmas sand candles. Please place your orders soon. A dozen candles, bags and enough sand costs $1.50. The number to dial is 639-5729.

Saturday, Nov. 15, cute little girl scouts will canvass the neighborhood taking cookie orders. The cookies are $1.25 a box and will be delivered between Jan. 13 - 30.
Gate of Heaven School will hold 'Open House' Sunday, November 16, 2 - 4 p.m. Parents are encouraged to visit with their child's teachers.
Anthony Amalfitano and Len Circolone both of Brooklyn, New York, visited the Correales this past weekend and entertained the neighborhood with their 'zaniiness'. It takes several days for my ribs and neck bones to cease aching from all the laughter we shared.
Special thank you to Tommy Yoniski for locating a pair of lost wire cutters and remember the plane that Mike Polachek lost? It was found. (This column reads like the lost and found section).
Parents are invited to attend a Powerhouse Parent meeting, Nov. 20, 6 p.m. at the Bob Yetter home on Pine Street.
"You honestly want to know what happened between me and my husband's standard shift car?" Last week my old but beautiful car took a fit and into the repair shop it went. So there I was with a cute little kiddy car parked in the drive way and me swearing I'll never drive it. After one day of staying home, my husband asked if I would give it another chance and try driving it. (Every marriage should go through this.)

That night I drove up and down Oak Hill streets. Drove isn't the word. It was like a rodeo with me hanging on for dear life. Must have done okay because Vin said "Take it tomorrow and relax". Took it out by myself and was very happy when I pulled up in the driveway and not a junk yard.
That night I told my husband one of the things that bothers me is when another car is behind me. The next morning, full of enthusiasm I go.
You won't believe this...a patrol car comes up behind me and starts flashing his lights. I paid no attention because I wasn't doing anything wrong. Then he sounds his siren. I still kept bouncing along. Finally he pulls along side and signals me to pull over. At this point I was so excited, I was stepping on the clutch, gas pedal, brake, pushing all the buttons and blowing the horn.
The officer informed me that the sign in the rear of my car, that warned neighboring vehicles, was blocking my license plates. (I didn't even know there was a sign because my husband, Mr. Subaru, never told me.)
After putting myself together, I stepped out and read, "New Driver - stay at least 50 feet behind. This car rolls back on hills! Laugh - it works, cars come up behind, read the sign and then back up."
Word of caution - stay far behind the white car in front of you, you never know when the driver is me!
Reservations are still available for Gate of Heaven's Christmas trip to Italy, Dec. 21 - January 5. Air fare only $415.00 via Pan American departing J.F.K. International Airport, New York. For details call Bridgette Correale, 639-5759.

Among the recent graduates from the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S.C., was Private Susan Leaf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leaf of 53 Powder Horn Drive, Dallas, Pa.
During the initial training, the emphasis is on physical conditioning, discipline and team effort.

Recruits attend classes on history and organization of the Marine Corps, uniform regulations, first aid and military customs.

PARENT VISIT—Mrs. Lillian Nulton, a member of the Lake-Lehman Parents Advisory Council in association with the E.S.E.A. Title A Program makes a visit to the junior high school recently. A total of 20 parents were in attendance at the various schools: junior high-3, Noxen-2, Lake-2, Lehman-Jackson-2, Ross-11. The purpose of the visit was to make observations and become acquainted with the various techniques and methods used by the E.S.E.A. teachers. Mrs. Nulton is visiting Gerald Gizenski's eighth grade History class.

Girl Scout calendar sale ends Nov. 15

The annual calendar sale of Penn's Woods Girl Scout Council is in progress and will continue through Nov. 15. The 1976 Bicentennial Girl Scout Calendar features Girl Scout's Bicentennial projects - Horizons '76 and Hidden Heroines - with photographs of outstanding women in action with Girl Scouts.
The Energy Committee of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce has expressed concern regarding some energy-saving devices and gimmicks that have been put on the market in this area.
The committee suggests that homeowners be very cautious about purchasing any electrical-saving device which the salesman claims can be installed on the homeowner's electrical lines which will cut overall power consumption.

Cost per calendar this year is seventy-five cents, council officers report the increase was necessary following a review of program budgets for the remainder of this year and those planned for next year. Public and Scout volunteer support is encouraged for this sale.

This area's neighborhood calendar chairmen include: Mrs. Mary Rogers, Kingston; Mrs. Thomas Colonna, Forty Fort; Mrs. Karen Tensa, Plymouth; Mrs. Andrew Denmon, Dallas; Mrs. Thomas Letteer, Trucksville and Mrs. Joseph Grebeck, Wyoming.
