

Jennie Hill shares easy-to-make recipes

Jennie Hill enjoys cooking of any kind but her favorite recipes are those for salads and cakes. She also likes easy-to-make recipes which are delicious to taste but require little preparation after a hard day's work.

The daughter of the late Herbert and Mary Whitby Hill, Jennie has always resided in Shavertown and graduated from Kingston Township High School. Her father owned and operated Hill The Florist, now operated by his son, Herbert, Jr.

Following graduation from high school, Jennie entered the Wilkes-Barre General Hospital School of Nursing and after passing her state boards worked in the operating room at the hospital until she accepted the position as school nurse, first at Westmoreland High School and then in the new Dallas Senior High School.

While at the school, she attended Wilkes College where she received her B.S. degree in nursing education. Later, she received her master's degree in guidance from Marywood College.

Jennie finds that her guidance education serves her well in her position as school nurse. She uses it daily talking with students on a personal basis and helping them with many of their health or physical hangups.

She enjoys working around her home and the pleasure she derives from needlepoint is evidenced by the many chair seats, pictures and pillows, throughout her home. She also has given many items to friends as gifts.

She likes to refinish furniture and recently completed her kitchen furniture which had been in the family for years.

She likes to travel and has visited Mexico, Europe, Aruba, Bermuda, and most states in the United States.

Swimming is one of her favorite leisure time activities whether it is in the ocean or the pool in her yard.

She and some of her close friends enjoy searching for gourmet restaurants and return to their favorite dining spots numerous times each year. Often they go out for dinner first and then go to the theatre, either the Little Theatre, or when in season, the summer theatres in the area. She also goes to New York to see some of the latest plays on or just off Broadway.

During the florists' busy season, she helps her brother and sister-in-law in their greenhouses.

Jennie is interested in the Bicentennial and is a member of Kingston Township's committee. She has been appointed chairman of the Arts, Crafts and Antique Committee and they are planning a display sometime during June. She and her committee will be searching for old items from residents of the township.

She is a member of the Wyoming Valley Philharmonic Society and attends all of their programs.

Jennie is also treasurer of the Pennsylvania School Nurses for this part of the Commonwealth. She is a member of Eastern Star, and all educational associations. Recently, she was in charge of the First Aid In-Service Education program for teachers of the senior and junior high school.

She will appear on Channel 44's program which is moderated by Walter Mohr. She and Mrs. Minerva Baiz, head nurse of Wilkes-Barre City Schools will hold a question and answer program on the "School Nurse and School Health Program."

Miss Hill enjoys her work as a school nurse—the students, the people with whom she works. "The students keep you young," she said, "you have to think young in order to communicate with them. They want you to do more than hear them, they want you to listen to them."

Her days at school are filled with responsibility and for that reason she enjoys easy-to-make but delicious recipes for dinner in the evening. She shares a few of these with Post readers.

APPLE CRISP
6 apples, sliced thin
1/2 c. sifted flour
1 c. sugar
1/2 t. baking powder
1 t. salt
2 eggs, unbeaten
Place sliced apples in bottom of 10x16 greased baking dish. Sift dry ingredients together. Stir in the eggs. Mixture will be crumbly.

Cover the apples with this mixture. Melt one-half cup of butter over this mixture. Sprinkle cinnamon on top.
Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees, until golden brown.

OLIVE & CHERRY GELATIN SALAD
1 - 3-oz. pkg. strawberry jello
1 can Bing cherries
12 green olives
1/2 c. pecans

Prepare jello according to directions on package. Add the can of cherries which have been pitted and drained. Slice the olives and add to above mixture, then add pecans.

Refrigerate until set. Serve on crisp lettuce.

BARBECUED HAMBURGS
1 lb. hamburger
1/2 c. oatmeal or bread crumbs
2 T. chopped onion
1/2 c. milk
Salt & pepper to flavor

Mix ingredients and make into cakes. Brown in large skillet. Pour following sauce over hamburgers before serving.
1 T. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 T. vinegar
1 T. sugar
1 T. chopped onions
1/2 c. catsup
1/2 c. water
Mix all ingredients together. Simmer over low heat about 90 minutes. Pour over hamburgers.
