Lady Knights lose to Wyoming Sem

The Lake-Lehman Lady Knights suffered their second defeat of the season at the hands of defending champs Wyoming Seminary Blue Knights.

Lake-Lehman took an early lead in the top of the first inning as three were hit in by Debbie Barto, Lisa Allardyce and Sally Galka. Seminary scored one run hit in by Collins. With two outs in the top of the second inning, Lake-Lehman added to their lead as two runs were brought in on a double by Debbie Barto. Seminary also scored two runs to make the score 5-2.

In the third, the black knights scored three runs by Long, Crane and Booth. Then Seminary went on a scoring streak as seven runs crossed the plate leaving the score 10-8 Sem. Lehman scored one run in the fourth on a double by freshman Lisa Allardyce while Seminary came through with seven more runs.

The Knights scored six more in an attempt to close in on the lead leaving the score 17-15 at the bottom of the 5th. A scoreless Knights inning in the top of the 6th and a rally of 8 runs for Sem. sewed up the game for the Blue Knights. Lake Lehman scored only one run in the top of the 7th on a double by Long. Final score was 25-16.

Navy ensign

William R. Bradbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bradbury of 112 Davis St., Trucksville, has been commissioned a Navy ensign upon graduation from Aviation Officer Candidate School at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

The 16-week course includes instruction on the fundamentals of aerodynamics and engineering, aviation physiology, mathematics and general military subjects. It is designed to prepare students for more than a year of intensive ground and inflight training leading toward their designation as naval aviators.

A 1975 graduate of Wilkes College with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering, he joined the Navy in September 1975.

BICENTENNIAL MEETING—Local high school teachers, who are members of the Social studies council, met recently at the home of Mary Lamoreaux as part of their Bicentennial activities. The Lamoreaux home is an historical landmark and is furnished with many antiques and historical pieces. The council is comprised of old public and private schools in Luzerne County as well as colleges. Its purpose is to develop a kind of education forum where educators exchange ideas, materials and teaching techniques in regard to social studies programs, and to improve social studies instruction within the
