BRITISH TRIUMPH The TR7 is unique among moderate-price sports cars. Its bold wedge, taken from the Grand Prix race tracks, is the shape of things to come. The edge of the wedge knifes through the wind, forcing the front down for solid control. It cuts drag, enhances power. But shut your eyes and you're riding in a luxury sedan. You sit and stretch in elegant space. This swift, nimble sports car is simply beautiful. But most important—TR7 is beautifully simple; engineered for endless pleasure and low maintenance at a price that's a steal.

Dallas defeats Crestwood to take first

Southpaw Steve Skammer held the Crestwood Comets to two hits Monday while his teammates aided with four runs to give him a 5-0 record for the season. The win also gave the Mounts a firm hold on first place and dropped the Comets to third place.

Coach Jerry Stinson's team went out in front in the first inning when leadoff Jeff Supulski drove out a triple. He scored when Greg Steele tapped a short sacrifice to the infield. John Reese singled and went to second when Kevin Rose took first on a dropped third strike. Reese scored when Brian Sickler grounded through the infield.

With the Mounts in the lead 2-0, the game turned into a pitcher's duel and both sides went scoreless until the fifth inning. The Conets' pitcher, Dale Fenstermacher walked Greg Steel, who went to second when Reese was hit by a pitched ball. Sickler went to first on a walk. With the bases loaded, Ray Smith walked to force in Steele and the score went to 3-0.

In the seventh inning, Bruce Riefenstahl walked, then went to second on a passed ball. He scored the Mountaineers' final run of the game when Skammer singled to left field.
