

REGISTRATION—More than 1400 fulltime students registered for the fall semester at Luzerne County Community College last week as the college begins its tenth academic year, according to Patricia Burke, director of admissions. Classes begin Aug. 30.

Sem begins 133rd year on Sept. 13

Marking its 133rd academic year, Wyoming Seminary will open its doors to new boarding students on Monday, September 13, on the Kingston campus.

From 9 to 11 a.m., the new dormitory students will register in Sprague Hall. After the registration period, the first-year boarding students, their parents, and all new day students will be feted at the annual President's Luncheon, to be held in the Fleck Dining Hall. Dr. Wallace F. Stettler, president of the college preparatory school, will address group.

register in Sprague Hall. At approximately 1:15, the boarding students and their parents will join the Dean of Students, O. Charles Lull, for a meeting at Carpenter Hall. Afterwards all the new students and parents will meet with the student's respective faculty advisor.

In the late afternoon, Alan Crocker, recently appointed Dean of Student Activities, will address the group in the Student Center, which opened last year. Following an evening meal, the students will relax at the Valley Swimming and Tennis Club, concluding the day's activities.

On Tuesday, September 14, all new boarding students and day students will be tested from 10 a.m. to noon at the Nesbitt Study Hall. In the afternoon, the students will participate in the other orientation activities—touring the campus and meeting with the deans and faculty members. After dinner in Fleck Hall, the formitory students will challenge the faculty members in a softball game to be held on Back Campus.

For the evening activity, all the students will meet at the Student Center for a movie.

Registration for returning students will be held on Wednesday, September 15, at Sprague Hall. The new students will spend the entire day on an outing at Ricketts Glen State Park, weather permitting.

Official opening of classes will be on Thursday, Sept. 16, with the convocation service at 9 a.m., at the Church of Christ Uniting.

MH-MR hold workshops on kindergarten entry

The Luzerne-Wyoming County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center recently concluded a series of four summer workshops focusing on kindergarten entry. The final workshop 18, hosted Donald C. Klein, Ph.D., who has conducted extensive research on kindergarten entry and its impact on the child and family.

John Lyon's magic show finale for story hour

John Lyon's magic show provided an exciting finale to the summer story hour for three to five year olds at the Back Mountain Memorial Library.

John, an eighth grade student at Dallas Junior High is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons of White Birch Lane, Dallas. He held the young audience spellbound with more than 20 baffling tricks of magic disappearances and appearances.

Following the show and games each child received a cup cake donated by Mrs. Donald Thompson of Fieldcrest, Shavertown. Mrs. Irene Collins, Mrs. Valerie Tirpak and Mrs. Marilyn Rudolph were story-tellers.

Wendy and Lori Traver and Debbie Balonis assisted the story ladies.

Attending were: Matthew Balberchak, Ann Balonis, Susan Balonis, Holly Barkac, John Barney, Lori Bullock, Paul and Mark Bullock, Kerry Burke, Wendi Coleman, Merrily Collins, Frankie Coslett, Kathy Delaney,

Registrations for the fall and winter session of story hour will be taken on Wednesday, Sept. 15 and Sept. 22 at 10 a.m. in the children's annex of the library. Children from three to five years of age are eligible.

Representatives from local social service agencies and the personnel from Dallas Area and Wilkes-Barre Area school systems heard Klein, a clinical-research psychologist and author, present his research findings.

Dr. Klein, author of Community Dynamics and Mental Health, directed a pioneer demonstration center in community mental health located in Wellesley, Massachusetts. Educator and practitioner, Dr. Klein has taught at the Harvard School of Public Health and Boston University. He has also served as psychologist at Berkeley State Mental Hygiene Clinic and at Massachusetts General Hospital. At present, Dr. Klein is a consultant to various community mental health centers, industry, city planning boards, and school districts.

The four workshops were aimed at preparing agency representatives, teachers, and parents for leading group discussions on the psychological aspects of kindergarten entry and the normal problems that families encounter when their children begin school.

The discussions are scheduled to begin during the week of Aug. 30 in the Dallas Area and Wyoming Area School Systems. Members of the Primary Prevention Program of the Luzerne-Wyoming County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center will assist in leading the group discussions.

Other workshops were held on July 27, July 29, and Aug. 3.

The Luzerne-Wyoming County Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center, a United Way Agency, has four offices located in Wilkes-Barre, Pittston, Forty-Fort and Tunkhannock.

King's to admit Sr. citizens at no charge

At King's College in Wilkes-Barre, a new policy has been approved to admit senior citizens 60 years of age and older, tuition free to academic courses for which they are qualified. The enrollment will be accepted after the registration of regular students has been completed, provided space is available in the courses.

Only costs will be $10 registration each semester, texts, and lab fees, if applicable.

Senior citizens may register for day, evening, or summer courses, for credit or to audit courses. Those not interested in working toward a degree or certificate will be special students.

Registration for senior citizens will be Sept. 1, 2, 3, 7, and 8 in the Administration Building, North River Street. Senior citizens interested in day courses should contact the Office of the Registrar. Those interested in evening classes should report to the Office of Continuing Education.

Information is available by contacting John Fixl, associate dean, Office of Continuing Education, King's College.
