Lake PTA discusses art entries

The first 1976-77 meeting of the Lake Elementary PTA was held Sept. 21 at the elementary school, with plans for upcoming projects on the agenda. The PTA discussed the leveling of some dirt behind the school by the Marine Corps and noted that safety guard windows for the school basement were being constructed. President Peggy Gray proposed that the school undertake a volunteer art project utilizing the visual arts concept with the theme of "What the World Needs Now." The art teacher agreed to participate in the national contest by scheduling time for students to work on the project during school hours. Students may also complete works at home for this volunteer endeavor. It was hoped that further developments would be available at future meetings. The first question and answer period of the year was met enthusiastically with members of the PTA group asking questions on a variety of subjects for Principal Charles C. James and Assistant Elementary principal Robert S. Kunkle to answer. The November meeting will be held No. 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Elementary School. The theme of the meeting will be "Learning Disabilities."

HELP (Help the Environment Load Paper) is the theme of this month's paper drive sponsored by the Jackson Boy Scout Troop 225, 1240 WBAX, and Solomon's Paper Industry.

The scout troop has been collecting paper once a month since April and is now ready to conduct a wide scale drive. Proceeds will be used for new troop camping equipment and a trip to Washington in October.

Dallas schools in WVIA-TV class

WVIA-TV's Instructional TV Department in cooperation with Luzerne Intermediate Unit 18 and the Dallas School District will be offering an in-service course for credit entitled, "Teaching with Television."

Initially the course will be available for all elementary and secondary teachers as well as supervisory personnel in the school districts under I.U. 18's jurisdiction.

The course is intended to stimulate the interaction between students and teachers through the proper utilization of ITV in the classroom. Teachers should then be better able to utilize TV within their curricula.

Tentative dates for the five-week course are Thursday evenings, Oct. 7 through Nov. 4. More information or registration for the course, are available from Frank Houston, IMS director, Luzerne Intermediate Unit or Donna F. Jarmusz, ITV utilization specialist, WVIA-TV.

Eventually WVIA-TV's Instructional TV Department hopes to offer this course to all interested elementary and secondary teachers in cooperation with the local intermediate units.
