

Mrs. James Richardson heads fashion show

Mrs. James Richardson

Mrs. James Richardson is chairman of the Ninth International Fashion Show to be presented by the Dallas Jr. Woman's Club at the Dallas Jr. High School at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 4.

Honorary chairman is Mrs. Evan Bonawitz, club president, and Mrs. Dwight Nunemacher is co-chairman.

Tickets may be obtained for $2 from club members, at the door or from the Back Mountain Branch of the Franklin Federal Savings and Loans Office.

In this year's fashion show new designs by Bill Travilla and Jill Richards will be featured. Both of these designers are closely associated with the film industry. Richards, an actrix until her recent appearance in the Hollywood designing circles, incorporates a special theatrical glamour into her fashions.

Travilla, best known for designing the fashions for "Marilyn Monroe Movies," also received an Academy Award for designing the creations worn by Flynn in the movie "Don Juan."

A group of young, avant garde Hollywood designers working under the name of Maya will also present their designs. The word "Maya" is Hindu for illusion, and represents fashions which do not conform to trends, but reflect today's moods of individuality and expression.

Also in this category of young designers are Holly's Harp, noted for fashions created from soft, flowing fabrics which emphasize the lines of the body, and Norma Camali, who designs for personalities such as Bianca Jagger, wife of rock star Mick Jagger.

Fashion is a cultural experience, a personal art. Fashion creativity burns like a flame. It can light up the mind and kindle desire, and Hess's fashions capture this excitement.

Entertainment will be provided by the Dallas Woman's Club Chorale under the direction of Mrs. David Wojciechowski and organ music will be proficed by Mrs. Russel Parsons. An informal tea will be held in the school cafeteria following the show.

Proceeds from this show will be used for community projects and the Dallas Jr. Woman's Club scholarship program.

Oak Hill

Grow and grow...

by Bridgette Correale
Wasn't it nice that Gate of Heaven's Parent Teacher Guild babysat for us Sunday afternoon? While our youngsters viewed the movies and stuffed themselves silly with popcorn and candy, we were able to catch up on some breathing.

The Guild plans to sponsor a 'Sunday Afternoon at the Movies' once a month. Thank goodness for little things.

Belated greetings to Donna Sue James who celebrated her seventh birthday Oct. 21.

Happy to note that Betty Marquis is recuperating at home after being a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

Hope to hear soon that Marie Bellas is up and around being her normal self again. Marie has been suffering with a slipped disc and hasn't been in the mood to 'Hustle' or in Al's case 'Tango.'

All Oak Hill's youngsters are sorry that their athletic director Gary Naugle is off to Spain for his Navy assignment. While home on leave at his in-laws The Osbornes, Gary would take the youngsters ages 6 and up and play football.

Birthday greetings are extended to Karen Iwanowski whose ninth birthday is October 31, to Megan Flynn her ninth, October 29, J.J. Downs, October 30 and Jamie Barlow, October 26.

Sorry to learn that Gladys Husted is a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Hurry up and get well so I can tease you again.

With her flower lei in hand and a lump in her throat, Karen Fertal has returned home after spending nine days in beautiful Hawaii. Karen along with her good friend Taryn McGinis, joined the Gate of Heaven travelers on their annual tour of Hawaii.

I don't know if it was in honor of her up-coming Oct. 28 birthday, but Fran Dress spent a lovely week end in Mt. Stowe, Vermont, where she enjoyed the company of a dear friend Fran Wentzel, along with the gorgeous scenery.

Tuesday is Election Day, so don't forget to exercise your right and power to vote.

Reading, Pa. will never be the same. This past Saturday, Geri Bartz, Marianne Cleary and Our Miss Brooks, Julie Iwanowski, drove down and literally hit every outlet along the way and out of the way. Then they told me they were tired and have headaches.

"Mommy you should see Kristina, she's beautiful, she had the smallest nose I ever saw and doesn't wake up when we make noise." That was our George describing the Burke's new baby, after seeing her for the first time. He can't get over that babies start out so small and grow and grow and grow. To tell you the truth, neither can I.

This Tuesday our baby will celebrate his seventh birthday and I can't believe it. In fact I better change my tune. I keep saying my extra weight is due to my last pregnancy. After seven years who am I kidding?

After Oak Hill's buffet dinner dance this coming Saturday, I wonder what's going to spring forward and fall back. The clock or some neighbors.

Tour ciderplant

The third grade students of the Dallas Area Schools toured the Eggleston Cider plant and orchards recently. They were accompanied by their teachers.
