Jr. Women to sponsor Christmas store

A unique store will make its debut and closing Saturday, Dec. 11, as the Dallas Junior Woman's Club sponsors its "Christmas Store" from noon until 2 p.m. at Gate of Heaven.

The store is unique because only youngsters will be permitted to shop. No adults are allowed as the children shop for Christmas gifts for Mom and Dad, sisters and brothers, favorite aunts, uncles, teachers, cousins and friends.

The children will be escorted by Girl Scouts who have volunteered to help the youths shop for such gifts as calendar towels, puzzles, oven mitts with matching pot holders, shoe bags, flashlights and coloring books.

Limited budgets are taken into consideration as the majority of the items are priced under $1. The gifts will be wrapped so that there will be no peeking before Dec. 25.

Santa Claus will be on hand so the young shoppers can turn in their own Christmas lists.

Marlene Rollman, is chairperson of this project and is aided by Carmella Thomas, co-chairperson;

Gloria Miller, publicity and Karen Shelly, wrapping committee. Sheila Bonowitz is president of the Dallas Junior Women's Club.
