Old North Church of Boston became part of American history when a lantern was hung in its tower on the night of Paul Revere's ride, April 18, 1775. The spire served original as a landmark for vessels heading into Boston harbor. The church was erected in 1723 and is still in use. The interior remains unchanged. In 1775 the members of the parish were politically divided and British army officers and colonist prayed side by side.

The church has played a major part in American history. There are several churches with a continuing ministry since before the Declaration of Independence. Christ Church (episcopal) of Philadelphia has used its present building since 1727. St. George's Methodist Church of Philadelphia has used the present building since 1769.

The oldest Baptist Church in America was founded in 1638 and has used the same church building in Providence, Rhode Island since 1775. In Easton, Maryland, the Society of Friends use the same building erected in 1684 and enlarged it in 1797.

In the midst of change, it is the Church that offers stability!

Diocesan Catholics to confer at CM

Catholics in the Scranton Diocese are being invited to a special conference at College Misericordia on Feb. 2 to discuss the issues raised in the recent call for action meeting in Detroit.

The Misericordia meeting is being co-sponsored by the college's Campus Ministry and Department of Continuing Education and will feature diocesan representatives to the Detroit meeting. The representatives will conduct a panel discussion, followed by a group discussion, on how the call for action issues relate to local parishes. The conference will be held in Merrick Hall at Misericordia from 7 to 10 that evening and will be open to all interested persons.

Guest speakers will be: Msgr. Constantine V. Siconolfi, Director of the Diocesan Commission on Ecumenism and Human Affairs; the Rev. William H. Osterle of the University of Scranton; Sister Margaret Gannon of Marywood College; Sister Margot Worfolk, of Mansfield State College, Sister Fran McManus of Mercy Center in Dallas, and Miss Genette Barbacane of Scranton.

Additional information on the conference is available by contacting the Campus Ministry Office at College Misericordia in Dallas.

Festival of Music seeks entries here

The 1977 edition of the Festival of Music talent competition sponsored by the Dallas Kiwanis Club is seeking entries.

Chairman Robert P. Carichner of the Kiwanis Club announced this week that applications were available for entries in the four categories in both high school and open divisions. Entries may perform in classical, pop, folk and western classes, each judged and awarded separately.

Each division will participate in preliminary judging and preliminary winners will participate in an April 2 public show in Dallas Junior High School Auditorium.

Grand prize in each competition category is $100 with $50 as first prize and $25 as second.

In addition, all contestants participating in the audition will receive a critique from the judges and a certificate of participation. A modest entry fee is required of all participants.

Auditions will be held beginning

Mar. 6 at Dallas Junior High from 1 to 5 p.m. on a specific schedule. Entries must be submitted by Feb. 14. All entries are to be submitted to Kiwanian Reese Pelton, 10 Gordon St., Dallas. Pelton is also junior high band instructor. Entry checks are to be payable to the Dallas Kiwanis Club.

The high school classification is for grades nine through 12 and the open class is for all post-high school age groups. Individuals, small groups and large groups are all invited to participate.

Back Mt. residents

participate in concert

An orchestra-and-organ concerto program will be presented in First Presbyterian Church, Wilkes-Barre, on Sunday, Jan. 30 at 3:30 p.m. The orchestra, composed of members of the Wyoming Valley Oratorio Orchestra, will be directed by Minister of Music of First Presbyterian Church, Myron Leet.

Organ soloist Thomas R. Jones, a Wilkes-Barre native now at Abington Baptist Church and Temple Shalom, Levittown, will play works of Buxtehude and Bach. Works of Vivaldi and Beethoven will feature Rosalie Opalka as violin soloist. Organ and orchestra will be used together in concertos of Mozart and Handel.

The 60 rank Schlicker pipe organ, built in 1969 and rebuilt following the 1972 flood, contains many pipes from the 1890 Roosevelt instrument installed when the present church was built. Included are some 3,000 pipes in speaking length from 32 feet to 1-16th of an inch.

The program is being co-sponsored by the Weckesser Music Fund of First Presbyterian Church, and the Recording Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians through co-operation of Local 140. No admission fee will be charged.

Miss Opalka is a student of Ferdinand Liva, who will be concert master of the orchestra. Other Back Mountain residents in the orchestra include Mrs. Alberta Liva, Overbrook Rd.; Daniel Falucci, Harveys Lake; and Mrs. Lynn Hurst, White Birch Lane.

Harvey to seek re-election to post

Leonard Harvey, magistrate of District 3-8 comprised of Dallas Borough, Harveys Lake Borough, Lehman Township, Jackson Township, Lake Township and Plymouth Township, has announced his intention to run for reelection on both the Republican and Democratic ticket this election.

Harvey has been in office since Dec. 1, 1970, when he was appointed by Gov. Raymond Schaffer on the merit of his knowledge of duties of the office. In 1972, he was elected to office.

Prior to 1970 he served as justice of the peace, a position to which he was elected in 1948 and served consecutively until 1970.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harvey, he was born in Harveyville and came to Dallas with his parents when he was four years of age. He graduated from Dallas Borough High School and, until he was elected to office, worked at American Chain and Cable Co.

Magistrate Harvey said that he has kept abreast with changing laws and has attended all of the classes sponsored by the state at Penn State University.

In his campaign for reelection, Harvey said he pledged to be fair to both the defendant and police in each case brought before him, based on the evidence presented.

He is married to the former Marian Weintz, native of Meeker. They have one daughter, Mrs. Lee Brace, who resides with her husband and two children, Lee, Jr., eight, and Kassie Sue, four, at Beaumont.

Harvey is a member of the Dallas

United Methodist Church, George M. Dallas Lodge, A.A.O.U.N.M.S., Caldwell Consistory, and Irem Temple. He is also a member of the Daddow-Isaacs American Legion 672, where he served on the board of directors for 16 years. He was chairman of the building committee at the time the American Legion Home along Memorial Highway, Dallas, was constructed.

Harvey is also a member of the Dallas Kiwanis Club and is chairman of the major emphasis committee focusing on crime and drug reform.
