Twice a day, something happens that helps keep your electric bill up.

Almost every day of the week, you probably use a lot of electrical appliances to make breakfast and dinner. You're not alone. Because twice a day, between 9 A.M. and noon, and then again between 5 and 8 P.M., everyone else seems to be using a lot of electrical appliances, too. In recent years our total customer demand for electricity during these "peak-load" periods has increased. And, this is especially true in the colder winter months. The results? Customer bills tend to increase due to the cost of operating special "peaking" generators—needed to meet the increasing demand for electricity at peak times. Why? Most "peaking" units use oil—they're costly to operate—and this added cost is reflected in your electric bill. Once a day you can do something to help keep your future bills down. And it's simple. Just wait till after eight o'clock in the evening to do most of those big energy-using chores. After dinner, relax—the dishwasher can wait an hour or two. Plan to do your baking on weekends if you've got an electric oven—and prepare meals to freeze for use during the week.

Save up your laundry and do full loads after eight. And, try to schedule your family's bathing after 8 P.M.—baths don't use energy, but your electric water heater uses a lot! Maybe you can think of even more appliances you can delay using until after eight. And today's the day to start! Every family that waits till after eight can help cut down future peak demands for electricity. The need for future rate increases will tend to be reduced because we will not need as much new generating capacity to meet the increasing peak load. Remember, the bulk of UGI's electricity is generated using less expensive coal. So, the use of electricity in off-peak periods costs less. It may take a while before the impact from peak load reductions is reflected in our customers' electric bills. But, if we all start now, that change will come sooner. So remember—always try to save energy. And one way to start is to wait till after eight!

'Energy Peaks' that cost everyone more money, normally occur weekdays from 9 A.M.-12 Noon, and 5-8 P.M. Help bring them down by waiting till after 8.
