If Tom Smith thinks he is going to get away from me in this column, he has to guess again. Everyone in the Back Mountain knows Tom "Beau Brummel" Smith.

Tuesday, Primary Day, Tom as usual was at the polls to help keep an eye on things and between him and the rest of the board, we entertained ourselves. We have a pool, where in the morning everyone guesses how many voters will come to vote. Who do you think won? And who do you think gave the winner that last vote to win? The answer to question 1 - Tom, to question 2 - me.

Belated birthday greetings to Mrs. Kotchko whose day was May 19 and to a future Mickey Mantle, Daniel Dombroski his eighth birthday, May 20. Sincere sympathy is extended to the Luksic's upon the death of Jake's sister and to the Cacoza family for the death of Jack's mother.

Congratulations to Cathy Schleich who was graduated from King's College last Sunday and to her sister Lisa Schleich, who received her master's degree from a college in West Virginia.

Last weekend the Iwanowski's traveled to Philadelphia to visit with Dolores and Fred Mitchell. Sorry to learn that Eleanor Menges is a surgical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital and that Rose Wolensky is a medical patient at Mercy Hospital.

Speaking of hospitals, Marie Ritts was a medical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital, but now is putting it all together at home. After spending Election Day with all us nuts at the Idetown Firehall, Marie's now ready for Retreat. The best is yet to come, Peg Laincz was a medical patient at Nesbitt Hospital for a few days. If you want to hear her 'bleep' and moan, call her up and ask her how come she landed in the hospital.

While we are on the subject, Tessie Polach is a medical patient at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. Hope to see you about soon. A warm welcome is extended to Chuck and Emily Anthony who have returned after spending their winter in Florida.

Pam Phillips, a student at Bloomsburg State, has returned home for summer vacation and it's needless to say how thrilled her father Roger, Oak Hill's congenial auto salesman and neighbor to Tom Smith, is.

The Cleary's have recently traveled to Boston, Mass., where they mixed pleasure with business. Many candles will be burning this week in Oak Hill, Happy Birthday to Jeff Straitliff, May 20; Carol Hession, May 22; Gino Mattioli, May 23; Ricki Ritts, May 25; Joy Orkwis, May 27 and to Ann Boyle, May 28.

While birthday candles are burning this week, I hope another candle will be centered on a table in a first class restaurant as several couples enjoy their wedding anniversary. Bill and Irene Michaels, May 20; Walter and Carole Blejwas, May 27; Ed and Marge Janosik, May 27 and last but not least the Correales their 16th on May 28. At this point in life, I'll settle for a grilled cheese sandwich with or without the candle, the wine, just as long as I don't have to prepare, serve or clean up.

The Guesmundo's enjoyed a visit with their daughter

Marianne Regal and family from Buffalo, New York.

Now for my get-evens - last night the Batkas hosted a fantastic party in honor of Jim and Sue Alansky who will be moving to upstate New York. Many neighbors were on hand to enjoy each others company and of course to behave themselves because they knew they would find themselves in this week's column.

"Ah right" (famous last words of Jane Yoniski, the bump queen of Oak Hill). To begin with we have to go back about nine years when the Correales entertained several couples. Eileen Batka, when seeing my buffet table set with plastic forks and knives said, "With this good food you need flatware," so up she went and took all the forks and knives out of the kitchen drawer.

I waited almost nine years to get even - last night her buffet table had plastic forks and knives, but I didn't say a word, 'actions speak louder than words' I sat down right in the center of 'Who's who' and as I went to eat the fork snapped and went flying. So much for Eileen.

Surprisingly, Ed Belasco, Al Bellas and Geri Bartz behaved themselves, although Geri wasn't that well behaved. Now we go to the Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire of the 1977's Ray Iwanowski and Chuck Barnett. Their show along with some side acts from Vince Angelicola, Mary Joyce, Vince Correale, Charlie Batka, not to mention Ozzie Osborne, is destined for Las Vegas.

I can't say too much about Ray and Chuck cause if I remained a half hour longer or one drink more (whichever came first) Ray would have written Oak Hill's column this week.

This coming weekend, Memorial Day begins the exodus for many friends and relatives who will come to visit us in beautiful Pennsylvania. You guys know the company I get, so if you don't hear from me some weeks, it's because I went away to camp.
