L-L matmen trounce Queensmen, 42-10

L-L Booster Club cancels meet

The Lake Lehman Booster Club will not meet this Thursday as planned, due to the rescheduling of the boys basketball game for Thursday, and the wrestling meet on Friday. Further announcement will be made in the Dallas Post regarding when the next scheduled meeting will be.

Wrestling program planned at L-L

The elementary wrestling program planned for Lake-Lehman students will begin this Saturday morning at 8 a.m. at Lake-Lehman High School wrestling room, according to Jim Davis, varsity wrestling coach.

The program which is for interested students in grades one through six was scheduled to begin last week but was postponed due to the weather.

Davis said that the elementary intra-mural program will enable youngsters to get a taste of wrestling and a general understanding of the fundamentals.

Interested persons may contact Davis at 639-5250.

Knights defeat Crestwood

Down by 11 at the half, the Crestwood Comets stormed back in the third period to draw within just two, but fell back again as the game wore on, dropping a 73-59 decision to Lake-Lehman Tuesday night on the Knights' home court.

Crestwood's third quarter surge was sparked by the spectacular outside shooting of Sanford Felder, who led Comet scorers with 19.

But then the Knights took charge again in the final stanza, reeling off eight unanswered points to take a solid lead that was never really threatened from then on. Dave Rushin, high for Lehman with 21, scored nine of his points in that period, keeping his team well out in front and blunting Crestwood hopes.

The taller, stronger Knights dominated the boards throughout the contest, forcing Crestwood to rely heavily on longer outside shots and pushing the Comets into some foul trouble as the game wore on. Dave Forsberg and Bill Jabjiniak had their hands full inside with big Tony DeCesaris and company, blocking shots and keeping Crestwood from getting it in close.

After Felder's 19, Crestwood had Simon Brodinski with 15, and Forsberg and Bill York with eight each. Steve Brynok had four, Jabjiniak and Pete Syak two each, and Scott Druby one.

Rushin's 19 led the Knights, followed by Tony DeCesaris' 14, Bert Balliet's 13, Joe DeCesaris' 10, Jim Spencer's nine, and reserve John Coulton's six.

WB campus cagers lose

Penn State's Wilkes-Barre Campus cagers dropped a close 88-83 contest to the Schuylkill Campus team on Monday night at the Lake-Lehman High School gym.

The local five took an early lead but were unable to stave off the strong offense of the visiting five who came to within two points as the half ended.

The local five had costly turnovers which put them behind by 10 points but with five minutes remaining in the game battled to take the lead by one point but a late rally by the visitors put them ahead by five for the final score.

High scorer for the locals was Bob Hassel with 28 points.

Snowmobilers' Hot Line available

Snowmobiles may now find out the conditions for snowmobiling in the Pocono Mountains without even leaving home. The Snowmobile Unit in the Bureau of Forestry, Department of Environmental Resources established the "Hot Line" to aid snowmobilers and also cross-country skiers. The number, 717-787-7604, can be called at anytime and a three minute recorded message relates the snowmobiling conditions. The four Pocono Mountain counties included in the message are Carbon, Monroe, Pike and Wayne.
