It's happening at Bishop O'Reilly

by Aimee Kalnoskas
On Wednesday, Feb. 16, the National Honor Society held its annual Induction Ceremony. Forty-four seniors and thirty-one juniors who have maintained a 90 and/or above average so far in their high school years were installed as official members.

This ceremony is noted as the height of the academic achievement within Bishop O'Reilly. Speeches and the symbolic yellow rose for each senior girl concluded the evening. Under the coaching of Mr. Keaney, four members of the debate team have qualified to compete in the District 8 Tournament at Scranton Central High School. Debbie Suda, Mary Ann Shemo, Ruth Boyle, and Danny Mesaros will represent O'Reilly.

Four other students of O'Reilly earned their recognition at the Wilkes College Sardon Art Gallery with the presentation of art and photography awards. Karen McDonnel received the Wyoming Valley Art League award and a golden key award for her entry in ink. Two certificates of merit were given for a pastel and ink work painted by Renee Zuba. In the photography field a golden key award and certificate of merit were awarded to Peter Carros. Three certificates of merit, a golden key award, and golden key finalist award were all presented to senior Brian Kravitz. The national competition at Rochester, N.Y., will feature his photography. The Sardon Art Gallery is exhibiting these works and those of other area students daily for the public.

The sophomores held a successful bake sale Tuesday Feb. 14, thanks to the cooperation of the members of the class and class moderator Sr. Catherine Mary. All profits collected on fund-raising projects such as this will be used to subsidize expenses for the annual Sophomore Party scheduled for May 19 at Gus Genetti's. All students of O'Reilly are asked for their support in any other future activities.

It appears as though Bishop O'Reilly High School will be represented in the state swimming competition to be held Feb. 24 and 25. Due to the winning determination and encouragement from all the members of the swim team, the 200 medley relay team have qualified to compete in states with a second place victory in the district competition.

The girls swimming in the 200 medley should be congratulated for their excellent performance. The team consists of senior: Maureen Judge, junior: Ann Maher, sophomore: Mary Sembrat, and freshman: Susan Hargadon.

As the end of the season draws near, the Bishop O'Reilly boy's basketball team will prepare to make the best of their two remaining games. The boys fought for a victory on their home court Tuesday, Feb. 14 against top-seated Meyers only to suffer two injuries and a 80-54 loss instead. Michael Zanczewicz had a game high of 17.

The 9-3 record gained the girl's basketball team thus far were challenged by Coughlin on Friday the 17th. The girls will play on their home court.

The Queensmen hosted the Crusaders Saturday night, Feb. 18.

KARNEVAL--Dallas Junior High School German classes have been celebrating "Karneval" or "fasching", a pre-Lenten festival observed in many German cities. The students prepared masks, miniature parade floats and submitted reports on typical German "Karneval" activities. Above is a display of some of the projects. Ellen Boyer is teacher of the class.
