Library has ceramics display

by Nancy S. Kozemchak

The Book Club of the Back Mountain Memorial Library will hold its first meeting of the Fall season on October 16 at the library annex beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Are you interested in ceramics? The display in the main building of the library is now showing basics of ceramics. Mary Lou Button of the Studio

Ceramic Shoppe, Main Street, Fernbrook has loaned us some of her items, which will be on display for the month of October. You can see how a mold becomes a finished product. There is greenware clay to porcelain, techniques of stains, underglazes, antiquing, crystal tones, glazes, easy strokes, majolica technique; all the materials necessary to complete a ceramic item. There is something for all ages in ceramics. The display includes Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas items ready for sale.

Mary Lou conducts classes for children on Saturdays and also has daytime and evening classes for adults. Contact her for dates and times. If you are not already into ceramics, come and see our display and you may find it the perfect hobby for you.

A new novel recently added to the shelves is "The Stars of Texas" by Warren Leslie, which is a story of enormous vitality about wealth and power, passion and ruthless ambition, privilege and the loneliness of being larger than life. It is a saga about the legendary Stars of Texas and the department store they founded early in this century.

Howard Fast's latest novel is now at the library. "Second Generation" is the second volume about the fortunes of Dan Lavette, the young Italian who lost his parents but launched a stormy brilliant career as a result of the great San Francisco earthquake. The first volume, "The Immigrants" proved to be a most wonderful book and this follows close to it.

A new memory book given by Mrs. Leslie Frantz in memory of Mrs. Lucy Kraus is "The Protestant Crusade in Ireland 1800-70" written by Desmond Bowen. This book surveys the state of the main churches in Ireland early in the 19th century. It is a study of Protestant-Catholic relations between the Act of Union and Disestablishment. The book offers a new insight into the origins of Ireland's sectarian and religious problems.

Are you looking for a way to remember a loved one? A donation to the library for the purchase of a book in memory of that person will help you to remember them, it will help the library to purchase additional books and it will be a lasting tribute to some special memories.

Don't forget the book sales in the annex on Tuesdays. If Tuesday is not a good day for you, come any time and ask someone of the staff members to show you the sale books.
