

ALL THAT JAZZ—"Dancin' And All That Jazz", choreographed especially for WVIA TV by Bob Niznik, will be seen on Wednesday, Jan. 24th at 10 p.m. on channel 44. The hour long special program, produced by Carol Nelson and directed by Allen Murphy, will include jazz, tap, Afro-Cuban and Middle-Eastern numbers performed by Niznik and his company. Among the guest performers in the production will be a belly dancer and members of the Dance Ensemble of Scranton. A special disco segment, which was filmed at a roller rink will feature disco dancers, disco skaters and dance skaters.

Mary Lou Veremeychik featured as soloist

Mrs. Mary Lou Veremeychik, Dallas, flutist will be one of the featured soloists in Wyoming Seminary's "An Evening of Chamber Music" to be held on Jan. 27.

The third series of Wyoming Seminary's Performing Arts Series, will be held at 8 p.m. in the Harold C. Buckingham Performing Arts Center, Sprague Avenue, Kingston.

The concerto program will feature several other well known musicians from Northeastern Pennsylvania. The highlight of the evening will be the unique performance of the Concerto in C Minor for two harpichords which will be played by John Vaida, conductor of the chamber music program at Wyoming Seminary and John Shannon of Williamsport.

According to Mr. Vaida, since the instrument is not a common one, it will be a unique experience for local music lovers to hear this combination.

Shannon's instrument is a French two-manual Watson Harpsichord while Seminary's is a French two-manual Herz constructed especially for the school.

Other feature soloists are Keith Hampton, music teacher at the Wyoming Seminary Day School, Forty Fort, who will play Handel's Concerto for Organ and Orchestra on the Austin organ.

Beethoven's Sonata for Piano and Cello will be played by Dr. Herbert Garber, Music Professor at Wilkes College, pianist and Enzo Liva, King's College Music Instructor, cellist.

The Sonata for Oboe, Flute, Violin and Continuo by Fasch will feature Kim Haan, Dunmore; oboist, Mrs. Veremeychik, Dallas, flutist; Julie Supplee, student at Ithica College of Music, violinist and Jean Supplee, student at Marywood College, cellist, both of Wilkes-Barre.

Although series tickets were sold earlier, a limited number of tickets will be sold at the door for $4 with early reservations made at $3 per person. Reservations can be made by calling the Wyoming Seminary Student Activities Center, 288-9576.

Health Center to move officers

Effective Jan. 16, the Wilkes-Barre State Health Center will be located in the basement of South Main Towers Building, 116 South Main Street. The state health center was previously located at 100 Hazle Street.

The center will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The telephone number will remain the same.

The public is asked to use the first floor elevator from either the South Main Street entrance or the side entrance facing the rear of Percy Brown's parking lot.

Clinic and public health nursing services will continue as usual.

The Wilkes-Barre State Health Center staff welcomes everyone to visit their new cheerful quarters.

Paid parking is adjacent to the South Main Towers Building.

Heritage House observes first anniversary

Heritage House of Wilkes-Barre recently celebrated the first anniversary of the opening of its new facility at 80 East Northampton Street in Wilkes-Barre. The facility is sponsored by the board of directors of the former Home for Homeless Women, founded in 1874 and chartered in 1894. Heritage House now admits male as well as female residents.

Described as "providing gracious living and nursing care for retired men and women," Heritage House offers three levels of care—residential, intermediate care, and skilled nursing care. The residential facilities include private and semi-private rooms, each with private bath, uniquely designed to permit from four to six residents to share a private lounge and kitchenette. Suites include living and dining area, bedroom and bath.

Homemakers (personal care attendants) are on duty around-the-clock to assure security, safety, personal care, and assistance with light chores. Self-service laundries are located on each floor for the convenience of residents.

The infirmary section on the second floor includes a 23-bed skilled nursing unit, and a 27-bed intermediate care unit. The intermediate and skilled nursing floor provides excellent care around-the-clock, so that residents who become ill need not leave Heritage House and friends. The floor has its own separate dining room.

Mrs. Margaret R. Spencer, executive director, issued an open invitation to the community to visit Heritage House. Private tours and group guided tours of the facilities are welcome and encouraged.

Officers and directors of Heritage House are: Mrs. Robert B. Harvey, president; Harold C. Snowdon, Jr., vice-president; Christopher Lacy, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Moat, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Post, recording secretary; and Mrs. Margaret R. Spencer, executive director.

James Regan to aid Fund

James E. Regan, West Elmcrest Drive, Dallas, business chairman for Wilkes-Barre and surrounding areas, has announced the start of the business solicitation for the American Heart Association's annual fundraising drive.

Regan is owner of the Fischer Electric Company of Wilkes-Barre.

His committee consists of Morton Schiowitz, Robert Taylor, Charles Hensley, Dennis Garvey, James Regan, Jr., Joseph Olsheski, and Red Jones.

The special gifts and business personal solicitation campaigns will be conducted at the same time.

LNL group welcomes moderator

Living a New Life group (LNL) held their Christmas party at the Golden Palace at which time they officially welcomed the Rev. Louis Canino OFM, as moderator of the group. He succeeds Rev. Joseph G. Rauscher, now diocesan director of Family Life Bureau.

Father Canino, OFM, a Franciscan, was ordained in Washington, D. C. in 1969. He received his theology degree from Catholic University. He also holds a master degree in counseling. Since his ordination, he served as associate pastor in Wycoff, N.J. and St. Anthony's Shrine Monastery. Besides his pastoral duties he has given a number of talks these past few years to priests, sisters and lay people. Father Canino will be available to any widowed person wishing counseling at all of the LNL meetings.

The Living a New Life group is also sponsoring a "Widowed-to-Widowed Outreach Volunteer Program". A group of the members have enrolled in this counseling course which will be held at the Primary Prevention Center, 116 S. Main St., Wilkes-Barre. This course will help them to aid new members to adjust to their new way of life created by widowhood.

The regular monthly meeting will be held on Jan. 25th at St. Ignatius Church Hall, corner of Pringle and North Maple Ave., Kingston, at 7:30.

Nancy Cabot from the Kasarda Green House, Wyoming, will exhibit a number of different varieties of houseplants at the January meeting. She will also tell of the advantages of each one. After the meeting she will answer any questions members may want to clear up.

All interested widows and widowers are invited to attend the meetings. Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Irene Gibson, president of the organization.
