Police reports

Three motorcyclists ran into some trouble in Dallas Borough in the early hours of Monday morning, with one being arrested on several vehicular and assault charges and the other two being cited for motor violations.

Arrested was Timothy Wagner, 20, of RD 2, Box 241, Dallas. He was charged with reckless endangerment, resisting arrest, disorderly conduct, reckless driving, and fleeing the police.

Wagner was arraigned Monday morning before District Magistrate Leonard Harvey, Dallas, and freed on $1500 bail. A hearing on the charges was set for next Tuesday. Cited for driving under suspension and fleeing the police was David Hummell, 23, of RD 1, Box 205, Pittston. Cited for failure to stop for the police, illegal use of a motorcycle with a learner's permit, and failure to possess a valid inspection sticker was Albert Gultis II, 20, of Box 131, Harveys Lake.

According to Dallas Borough Police Ptlm. John Fowler went after the cyclists after observing Wagner lifting the front wheel of his cycle off the ground while driving.

Wagner then, police report, failed to stop while being pursued, tried to force the cruiser off the road, fought with the arresting officer, and used obscene language while being led off.
