

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Wendy Smith

Wendy Smith, attractive, blond Lake-Lehman student is in the Post Spotlight at Lake-Lehman High School this week. A senior enrolled in the high school's business course, Wendy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Hunlock Creek. She lives with her parents next door to the house where her mother was born and raised. Wendy is very active in chorus at the high school.

She has been a member for the past five years. She sings second soprano but most of the time she is the accompanist for the chorus. During her sophomore and junior year, she also was accompanist for the school's stage band.

A member of the National Honor Society, she has a 3.8 average. Until this year, Wendy did a lot of publicity for school sports, especially the girls basketball team. She said the biggest thrill was when one of her articles appeared in print without being edited.

In her junior year Wendy was manager of the girls basketball team for part of the season.

Wendy took piano lessons for 11 years and presently is taking vocal instruction at College Misericordia. She is active in Bloomingdale Methodist Church and this year works as a volunteer waitress at the church suppers. When needed, she also plays the piano for church services or for special programs. She enjoys creative writing and writes numerous poems or stories. She also does photography as a hobby.

Wendy worked part-time at Willard Sutliff's tomato packing house for three years. Last summer, she worked as a waitress at the Highway Diner in West Nanticoke.

Her father is a mechanic and Wendy spends a lot of time working on cars. Recently, she put new wheels and rims on her car. Following graduation Wendy does not plan to attend college but hopes to get a position with civil service.

Among the things Wendy likes at Lake-Lehman is the way the students identify with one another. She said there is a great deal of friendliness and she also enjoys the business courses especially secretarial skills and accounting.

She does believe that the students would like to have more active clubs other sports, for the students not athletically inclined. Otherwise, Wendy thinks Lake-Lehman High School is great.

Mark Miller

Mark Miller

Mark Miller, Dallas Senior High School, is in the Post Spotlight this week. A senior taking academic classes, Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Miller, Elmcrest, Dallas.

Mark has a sister, living in Louisville, Ky., and a brother, Philip, who is married and residing in Forty Fort and working with his father in Newberry Services.

A member of the band since fifth grade, he plays the trumpet and this year was selected for District Band. Mark took private lessons and also is a member of the musicians union. He plays professionally with the Stegmaier Band at various times throughout the year. This summer he hopes to play with the band at Irem Temple Country Club. Mark was selected as a student in "Who's Who in Music".

Mark had two major roles in this year's high school productions. He played Chandler Marlowe in "The Butler Did It", and Nick Bottom in "Midsummer Night's Dream." During his junior year he had a role in "Anything Goes".

He also likes drama and is a member of the school's Drama Club. During junior high school, Mark was on the track team but he didn't go out for track in senior high school but rather concentrated on music. He played tennis during his sophomore and junior years but didn't go out for the team this year.

Mark was a soloist in this year's band concert. He also plays with the school's stage band.

When he has leisure time, he spends a lot of it playing the trumpet. He also goes horseback riding and until 18 months ago had his own horse which he sold. During days off from school and in the summer, Mark works for his dad.

He still plays tennis, usually at the high school or at the Kingston Tennis Club during the winter. Mark enjoys hiking and camping and in 1976 he went backpacking in New Mexico.

Mark plans to attend Wilkes College in the fall and major in business administration.

Mark said that the students at Dallas are very friendly and that this year the student body behaves much better. There is some vandalism, he said, but not like it was in prior years. He also finds the teachers very cooperative and likes the wide variety of courses offered. Mark believes there is a better quality of education at Dallas than in many schools.

He believes, however, that the administration became too strict too fast. According to Mark, changes should have been made at a slower pace. He said teachers have to spend half their time writing passes.

"All of the students are suffering for what last year's class did," said Mark. "It's not fair to this year's students."

"And this year we come back from our three day senior trip, are off Friday for the prom, then we have to come back May 28 and take our finals. I believe final exams are superfluous for seniors."

Mark said that this year, for the first time, he is looking forward to graduating, something he never thought would happen.

Mark Miller is representative of a majority of students at Dallas Senior High School seldom, if ever, involved in a major disciplinary problem.

Orientation Night set

An orientation program for the parents of the students who will enter the Dallas Junior High School's seventh grade next September will be held in the school's auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 22.

The program will be conducted by Frederick J. Case, the principal; Daniel Poorman, the assistant principal; and Thomas Carr and Gordon Schlier, the guidance counselors. The purpose of the meeting will be to provide information about next year's course of study, some of the school's rules and regulations, and the program of extracurricular activities. Colored slides will be shown of the school followed by a "question-and-answer" period. The program will close with a guided tour of the building.

The students from the Dallas Intermediate School will tour the Dallas Junior High School on Monday morning, May 21.

Dallas High School to hold 'Move Up' day

An informal get-acquainted morning will be held Monday, May 21, at 8:30 a.m. in the Dallas Senior High School auditorium.

Parents of the students presently in ninth grade are cordially invited to attend with the students.

The program will be conducted by Edgar Hughes, principal of Dallas Senior High School, Brook Hunt, assistant principal, Mrs. Barbara Price, John Farkas, Mrs. Diane Hunt, guidance counselors, and other faculty members and students.

In the morning information will be provided about the senior high curriculum choices for next year and the various activities in the school. Following the program a tour of the building will be conducted by members of the National Honor Society.

SCHOOL CHORUS--The Dallas Intermediate School Chorus will present a historical musical, "The 1890 Music Hall Revue" on Friday, May 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high school auditorium. They will tell the story of the "Good Old 1890's" in song, dance and spoken dialogue. (Photo by Mark Moran)
