GET AN ADD-ON HEAT PUMP & ADD UP YOUR ENERGY SAVINGS.

Are you aware of the advantages of the electric heat pump?

This amazingly efficient system can warm your home with heat it extracts from outdoor air, even in midwinter. And it cools your home in summer like an air conditioner.

Regardless of the fuel you use, if you have a warm-air heating system, you can enjoy the savings of heat pump efficiency. Just install an add-on heat pump to operate in combination with your present system.

Heat pumps operate more efficiently when outdoor temperatures are 35 F or higher. Below 35, supplemental heat must be added from another source. By using an add-on heat pump with your present system, both heating sources will operate at their maximum efficiency, thereby reducing overall energy consumption and lowering your heating costs.

The add-on heat pump will supply much of your heating needs throughout fall, winter, and spring. Then—when summer comes—you'll have central air conditioning supplied by your electric heat pump.

And of course there are still more savings possible—by using UGI's optional Time-of-Use rate (Rate RTU). To learn how an add-on heat pump can benefit you, call UGI at 283-0611 or Enterprise 10636.
