Lake-Lehman's hockey team, coached by Jane Morris, defeated Dallas 3-2 on the loser's field last Wednesday. Although Dallas threatened goalie Annette Kowalski continuously in the first eight minutes of the game, Lake-Lehman controlled the ball on one crucial drive which resulted in the first goal of the game.

Mid-fielder Sandy McCarroll passed the ball to wing Diane Aston who passed to inner Shari Sutton for the goal. Lake-Lehman then took the ball once again to Dallas territory from the 50; however, Dallas' defense took over for a corner hit in Lake-Lehman territory. Due to the rushing of Toni Pall,

Dallas' efforts were blocked, but they were rewarded two more corners which were blocked by sweeper Holly Nitsche and mid-fielders Judy Major. Finally, with five minutes left in the half, Dallas' Lois Faller scored when Lake-Lehman goalie rushed out of the cage, and Faller got a drive by her. The score at the half was 1-1. In the second half Dallas and Lake-Lehman threatened to score. Dallas was awarded several corners which were thwarted by Toni Pall who drove the ball continuously to Dallas territory. Lake-Lehman's Tammy Lincoln took the ball to the Dallas Circle and passed to Sutton whose shot missed the pole by inches. Finally, after several scoring attempts, Lake Lehman's Shari Sutton dribbled in alone, on Dallas' goalie and scored with four minutes remaining in the game. The score was Lake-Lehman 2, Dallas-1. With one minute left, a determined Dallas team put together a drive from their own 25 yard line. With two seconds left, Rama Pawling scored the tying goal. In a 10-minute overtime, Dallas controlled the ball the first five minutes, while L.L. controlled it the second five minutes. Neither team was able to score. A flick-off resulted in which five players from each team flicked one-on-one at the goalie. Dallas' Rama Pawling's first flick got by Annette Kowalski; however, L.L.'s Bev. Hontz scored also on her flick making a 1-1 tie; Dallas' Young and Sosnowski's flicks were blocked while Lake-Lehman's Garinger's also failed. Lake-Lehman's

Judy Major broke the tie to make the score 2-1. Lake-Lehman's Kowalski once again blocked Dallas' Faller's attempt leaving only Federici as Dallas' last hope and sophomore Tracey Turner and Diane Aston for L.L. None of the remaining three scored leaving the flick-off 2-1 and the game score 3-2 Lake-Lehman.

Would the field goal have won it? Dallas will never know

"Penalties cost us the game," said Dallas Coach Ron Rybak, referring to the Mounts 0-0 tie with Hanover on Saturday. "We had plenty of opportunities to score but failed to capitalize on any of them. The one time we were on the two-yard line but their defense held. "It was possible we could have won the game with a field goal but that's something we will never know."

Rybak was referring to the final play of the game which left many fans uncertain as to what had happened.

With only seconds remaining in the game, the Mountaineers were ready to attempt a 30-yard field goal. But before the ball was snapped, an official sounded the whistle ending the game. And utter confusion prevailed.

The Mounts Dave Williams intercepted his third pass of the game and carried the ball to Hanover's 29-yard line. On the next play, the Hawkeyes were hit with a 15-yard penalty for pass interference which put the ball on the 14-yard line.

The scoreboard clock was broken and officials on the field were keeping the time. At the end of the penalty call there were 13 seconds remaining in the game.

The officials spotted the ball and the Mounts appeared ready to kick for a field goal. It was then the whistle sounded the end of the game and confusion reigned.

Coach Rybak explained the situation as follows: "The officials spotted the ball and our kids lined up for a field goal. One of our kids called a time out and one of the officials blew the whistle and everybody stopped. But the clock kept running. "We didn't have any time outs remaining but the official should have stopped the clock when he blew the whistle but he didn't. So the time ran out. Maybe we wouldn't have made the field goal. But there will always be that question in our minds whether or not we would have.

"However, our offense moved the ball. Norm Bordley played a fantastic game. He accounted for more than 100 yards rushing. "Mike Getz also played a good game. He gave us a chance to score when he recovered a Hawkeye fumble. "The turning point in the game though was when Williams interception was called back because of a clipping penalty. It was a good call, it shows on the films. "Dave Oster did a good job at quarterback. We just had too many penalties-115 yards in all. "It seemed every time the kids were psyched up, Hanover pushed them back. "Our offense came through pretty good. It was surprised Hanover got through our defense as much as they did. "This Friday night's game with Valley West will be tough. They have a lot of kids and we have a couple of injuries. "But we'll work hard this week and we will be in there to give it our best. They have size and experience but our kids have spirit and determination."

Wyoming made fewest mistakes

"We came off an unusual week," said Lake-Lehman Coach Tim Hisiro, talking about Saturday's game between the Knights and Wyoming Area. The Warriors downed the Knights 36-15 paced by sophomore A.J. Minichello. "Playing Bishop Hoban Monday night then going into a game Saturday with Wyoming proved to be a handicap," said Hisiro. "We played a weak defensive tackling game the first half. "Before we knew it the Warriors were in front 21-0 at halftime. In the third quarter it looked as though we were about ready to turn the game around when we scored on our opening possession, then scored again after Todd McCarroll recovered a fumble and Wayne DeCesaris hit Bernie Hrabowski for the second score. "We were victimized by our own mistakes. In a football game, it is usually the team who makes the least mistakes who wins and Wyoming made the least. "They're a fine football team. They are quick and they made some big plays. "In the third quarter our boys played well but it takes more than one quarter to win a game. Ed Parsons played a good defensive game. He made the key quarterback sack which caused the fumble recovered by McCarroll. Mike Leskowsky had 16 tackles. "DeCesaris and Dave Lasco intercepted passes in the second half and Michaels kicked the PAT while DeCesaris hit Jim Hurley for the two point conversion. Hrabowski caught three passes for 49 yards and Hurley caught five for 52 yards. Michaels completed 13 for 27 for 140 yards. "Several of our Knights missed tackles but there's no doubt we were outplayed by a better team. It was the Warriors A.J. Minichello who led his team to the win. He collected 105 yards including a 52-yard touchdown run in the second quarter for the Warriors 36-15 victory. He scored a second touchdown late in the game from the four yard line and also led the Warriors defense. Wyoming held the Knights to a total of 190 yards offense while they totaled 343. The Warriors dominated the first half but the game was no easy win for the Wyoming team. The Black Knights came back in the third quarter and took the ball on the opening kickoff. They went 68 yards down field for a score by Jim
