

Newcomers work for charity here

The Newcomers Club of Wyoming Valley prepare food baskets to be delivered the week of Thanksgiving to the needy families which the club sponsors. This committee, headed by Mrs. James Lehman, collected food, clothing, and money for turkeys at Monday nights general meeting at the Grace Episcopal Church in Kingston. The committee consisted of Mrs. Paul Saneholtz, first vice president of the club; Mrs. David Diefenderfer;

Mrs. Edward Nicely; Mrs. James Lehman, chairman; Mrs. Joseph Bevevino, president; Mrs. Ralph Bellman and Mrs. James Tunney.

The highlight of the November meeting and the big money maker was the annual abilities auction where all the members work hard all year on their abilities to make handmade crafts of all kinds such as Christmas decorations, dry art, macrame, hand knitted items, sewn items, baked goods, etc.

All items are then auctioned off and all money collected goes to charity. The auctioneers were Mrs. William Griffin and Mrs. Donald Walsh. Mrs. Kevin McGovern, chairman of the ways and means committee said she was pleased with the excellent participation of all members and guests.

Approximately 40 couples attended a 50's party held at the Hayfield House, Penn State Campus at Lehman. Mrs.

Dannis Zutant and Mrs. David Larkins were "cavorting co-chairmen" of the party.

Mrs. John Gager announced the Children's Christmas Party for ages 10 years and under will be held Dec. 15th at the Grace Episcopal Church in Kingston from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. for all children of the membership.

The Christmas carol sing-along will be held at Mrs. Donald Horvath's home on Dec. 29th. The next board meeting will be held at Mrs. Paul Clemow's home in Dallas on Nov. 27th.

Anyone wishing to join or obtain more information about the club should contact Mrs. Joseph Bevevino, president, of Forty Fort or Mrs. Paul Billman of Trucksville.

HLWSC holds new member reception

The Harveys Lake Women's Service Club recently held a reception for its new members at the Irem Temple Country Club. President Dottie Stratford; Membership Chairman Ruth Sennett, and Ass't Recording Secretary Nellie Rood inducted the eight new members through a candlelight ceremony.

A tribute of honor was also given to Cleona Fritz of Noxen, Bessie Ide of Sweet Valley and Helen Crispell of Noxen. Ruth Williams, gerontology chairman; Ione Burnell and Millie Garinger led the tribute and presented the three new honorary members with pins.

A song written by Millie Garinger was sung by all members, accompanied by Esther Grey on the piano.

A business meeting followed which included announcement of a bike-athon to raise money for retarded citizens and the theme for the 1980 Conservation Program as "Keep Pennsylvania Beautiful".

Dottie Reynolds of Harveys Lake was introduced as the new public relations chairman.

New business included request for donations for the Halfway House, the upcoming District Arts Festival to be held in Luzerne County and the results of the contest the club held.

The Harveys Lake Womens Service Club announced the winners of their contest; a permanent by Odette to E. Gelb of Forty-Fort; an afghan made by Vivian Rinke, Dallas, to Gloria Wienckowski, Harveys Lake; $15 worth of gas from Ross Williams, Lehman Center to Richard Titus, Harveys Lake; $100 worth of food from Darings to Pat DeHaut of Tunkhannock; and $200 worth of groceries from Darings to Bertha Archibald of Dallas.

The money raised through the contest will provide baskets of food for the elderly.

Christmas store plans underway

The Dallas Junior Woman's Club is currently preparing for its annual children's Christmas Store which will be held on Saturday, Dec. 8, at the Dallas Senior High School.

The Christmas store will be open to LUZARC members from 11 a.m. to noon and the area children, under age 12, from 12:30 to 3 p.m. The Christmas store is held in order to enable the children to purchase inexpensive gifts for their parents.

Chairman of this event is Mrs. Carol Smith and co-chairman is Mrs. Jane Riley. Members of the Dallas Junior Woman's Club will be available to help the children with their selections on Dec. 8.

An added feature of this year's Christmas store will be the sale of various handcraft items. Booths are still available at reasonable cost for anyone interested in displaying and selling their handcrafts. For additional information, please call Mrs. Carol Smith at 288-8676.
