

PTO

plans book fair

The Westmoreland Elementary School P.T.O. will sponsor a student book fair on Friday, April 18 and Monday, April 21. The students will have an opportunity to browse among the books of Friday and on Parent-Teacher conference day, April 21, parents and students will be able to examine and purchase the books.

The fair will encourage student interest in reading and building home libraries and will include adventure stories, mystery, fiction, biographies, science, nature and reference books.

The committee includes Mrs. Betsy Balonis and Mrs. Taffy Shotwell-co-chairman, along with the officers of the organization. Mrs. Sally Davenport is president; Mrs. Marianne Williams, vice-president; Mrs. Pat Karuza, secretary; and Mrs. Joyce Youren, treasurer.

Jury's work displayed at art gallery

On April 19, The Art Gallery at College Misericordia will open an exhibition of photography by Mark and Dan Jury. The show consists of selected photographs from "Gramp", "The Vietnam Photo Book", and "Playtime! Americans at Leisure", three photo essay books published by these nationally known photo journalists.

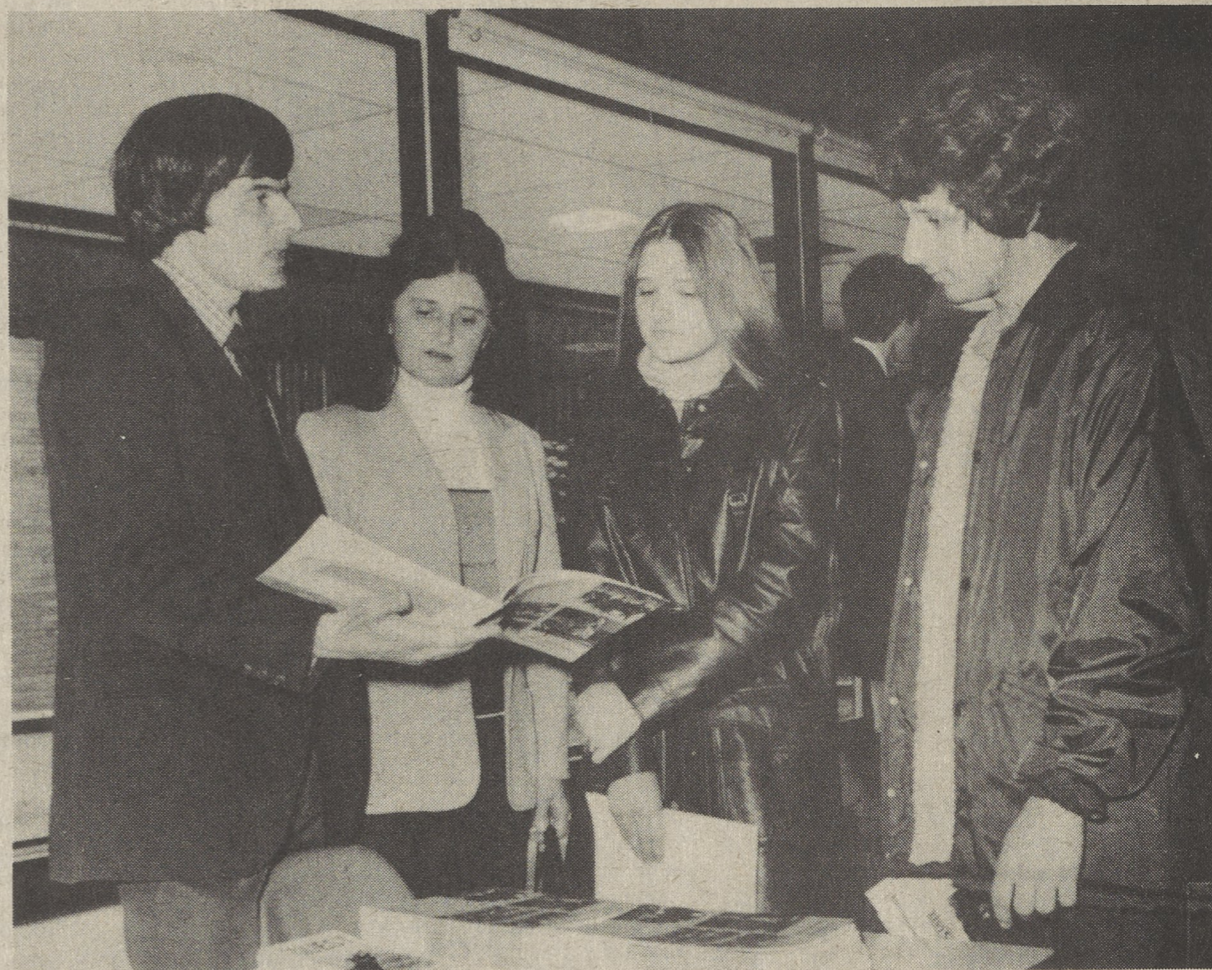

A filmstrip and tape of "Gramp", the story of their grandfather's ordeal with senility and death, will be showing continuously in the Gallery. This body of work, recently exhibited in the Soho Photo Gallery in New York City, offers an unsentimental, stark look at problems facing American society.

The exhibition will be open daily from April 19 through May 5 during regular gallery hours, 1 to 4 p.m., or by appointment. Special arrangements can be made for group tours by calling the Art Gallery at 675-2181 Ext. 247 during business hours.

Westmoreland PTO to meet

The Westmoreland PTO will hold their monthly meeting on Wednesday, April 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Election of officers for next year will be held at this meeting.

News About Youth

COLLEGE DAY--Some 500 area high school students and their parents attended College Misericordia's recent College Day program, meeting with admissions representatives from 58 colleges and universities. Above, Bernie Vinovrski, admissions director of Bloomsburg State College, discusses programs with Mrs. Theresa Hahn of Dallas and daughter Lorraine and son Paul, both students at Dallas Senior High School.

SHOW WINNERS--Members of Dallas Senior High School power technology class took second place with the custom-designed and built motorcycle they entered in the International Championship Auto Show, March 28, 29, 30, at the Philadelphia Civic Center. The class competed against other entries from as far as Florida and Tennessee. First place was won by an $18,000 show bike from Tennessee. The students ended the year with two first places and the second. They also are listed in this month's issue of Mechanix Illustrated magazine. Quartet plays at Hayfield

The Alard Quartet, one of the nation's leading string quartets, will present a free public concert on Tuesday, April 22, at 11 a.m. in Penn State-Wilkes-Barre's Hayfield House.

Included among the outstanding quartets of this country by Joseph Wechsberg in his book, "The Glory of the Violin," the Alard Quartet is one of a distinguished line of quartets to emerge from the Julliard School of Music.

The Alard Quartet was formed in 1954.

CONCERT--The award-winning Lake-Lehman symphonic band directed by John Miliauskas will appear in concert on Friday and Saturday, April 18 and 19, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The Cadet Band, directed by Johathan Pineno, will precede the Senior Knights Band. A feature of the concert will be a Dixieland Jazz Ensemble. Tickets may be purchased from any band member and also at the door. In addition, the batons will be featured and are pictured above: First row, left to right: Mandy Wood and Joanne Gunton. Second row: Lynn Cooper and Michelle Fabian. Third row: Liz Yurko, co-captain and Sue Rushin, captain. Fourth row: Maria Drobnicki and Lisa Bond.

Dog training classes begin

Members of the Luzerne Dog Training Club are completing preparations for another in their series of dog obedience courses. The club has offered training classes in various locations throughout the county for the past seven years. The forthcoming course will be held in Wilkes-Barre, at the Cole Street Ice-A-Rama.

Registration is scheduled for Tuesday, April 22, at 7 p.m., in the Ice-A-Rama, and will be immediately followed by an orientation session. Anne Green, club president, stressed that the orientation is for people, and asks that dogs be left home that night.

Classes will be held on nine Tuesday evenings, including orientation night, with the final one, graduation, planned for June 22. Since the site is covered, classes will not have to be postponed in the event of bad weather.

The classes are taught by club members, all of whom have earned obedience degrees with their own dogs in American Kennel Club competition. Members of the club report that practically everyone has a good time getting to know other dog owners at the weekly sessions, and that the dogs not only become better pets and neighbors as a result of the training, but seem to enjoy themselves, too.

Kay Sachs, the club's training director, pointed out that the course is open to all kinds of dogs, whether they are purebred or mixed-breeds, provided that they are at least six months old and have been immunized against distemper within the last year.

Mrs. Sachs herself, although she earned an AKC degree with a Basset Hound, is currently working with a mixed-breed adopted last year from the Luzerne County SPCA.

Anyone interested in further information about the obedience classes is invited to call Mrs. Sachs at 678-3531 in Mountaintop, or Ronald Womelsdorf at 735-8639 in Sheatown.
