Women invited to Irem program

A program focusing on rural women will be held on Monday, July 14, at the Irem Country Club, Dallas, starting 10 a.m. The event is the 1980 Region VI Ladies' Day Out and is sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Luzerne County Farmers' Association and the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association.

The theme is the United Nations Decade for Women: Equality, Development, and Peace. The July 14 date coincides with the U.N. World Conference on Women in Copenhagen, Denmark. Attenders can participate in one of three workshops: "Women and Equality", "Rural Women around the World", "Women and Peace: The Home and the Community". The agenda includes a PFA Youth Conference report, a cooking demonstration, an Irish folk dance group (ages 3 to 19), a fashion show, "Women in PFA", and doorprizes. Marylynn

Furry, Family Management Specialist from PSU, will speak on "The Ant and the Grasshopper: Managing Resources Effectively". A full course luncheon is included.

The Irem Country Club is located two miles north of Dallas on Rt. 309 (ten miles north of Wilkes-Barre). Tickets are $6.50 in advance or at the door. Registration will begin 9:30 a.m. the morning of the meeting. Everyone interested in attending is asked to call Marylou Burke at 788-1272 for reservations.

Two students to enroll

The following is a list of incoming Dickinson College freshman from Dallas:

Linda Ruth Akers, a psychology major, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Douglas N. Akers, of 65 Saginaw St.

Michelle Anne Arcuri, an engineering major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris T. Arcuri, of RD 1.
