Also on Sunday at 3 p.m. The Irem Temple Dune Cats will put on an exhibition of their skills in the show ring. [Photo by Alex Rebar]

Myers case goes back to HL zoning board for reconsideration

Luzerne County Common Pleas Judge Bernard Podcasy last week deferred a decision on an injunction sought by neighbors who filed suit against Melvin Myers et al of Harvys Lake in a property-use dispute.

Podcasy asked that the Harveys Lake zoning hearing board review the case one more time before he ruled.

The request for injunctive relief developed when, according to plaintiffs Dr. Mortimer Slavin, Dr.

Norman Wienckowski and others charged that Myers failed to live up to the terms of a special exception granted for his operation of an apartment in his home in a single family residential zone.

The plaintiffs indicated that Myers did not exercise his right to appeal the grant of special exception and is therefore bound by its terms, which means he must hook up his boathouse to the borough's municipal sewer and remove certain boat mooring posts installed for rental.

The case has been pending for more than three years and has involved the borough zoning hearing board in several reconsiderations of the case. Richard Myers, son of Melvin and a co-defendant in the case, is a Republican committeeman in the borough.

A spokesman for the plaintiffs indicated that a hearing on the equity suit would be pending even if the immediate injunctive relief is not awarded by Podcasy.

CM Troop 336 returns from Camp Acahela

Eighteen members of Boy Scout Troop 336 of Centermoreland have returned after a week at the Boy Scout Camp Acahela in the Poconos. The area troop tied for first place with a boy scout troop from Plymouth Borough in sharing the 'Commissioner's Award' for the week. Ted Dreisbach of Falls, who has been active in area scouting circles for many years, served as unit leader and was assisted by Tom Tone, assistant scoutmaster of the troop.

Two members of the area troop, Tom Considine and Eric Bellas, were selected for induction to the 'Order of the Arrow' and will be initiated at the Fall powwow of that group on Friday, August 15, at Camp Acahela.

Other area scouts, who spent a week at camp, included Robert Sheridan of Lake Winola; Matt Targett of Mill City; Jamie Davidson, Shaun Fortney, John Kuderka, Allan Deutsch, Shawn Considine, Bernie Van Buskirk of the Falls area;

Donald Rorick of Beaumont; Rusty Faux, Steve Dymond, Chuck Storey, Kevin Gilpin, Eric Bellas, Bobby Phillips and Brian Jenkins of Centermoreland, and Bobby Faux of Vernon, who is the senior patrol leader.

TO BE ROASTED—Plans are being finalized for the roast honoring Senator Frank O'Connell to be held at the Irem Temple Country Club on Friday, July 25, 1980. Joseph "Red" Jones will serve as roastmaster and has announced the following peoppe will serve as roasters: Rosalie Brader, State Senator Henry Hager, Honorable Samuel Hayes, Majority Whip of the Pa. House of Representatives; Kenneth B. Lee, Esquire, former Speaker of the Pa. House of Representatives, Judge Charles Lemmond and Charles Luger, Lackawanna County Commissioner. The affair will honor Senator O'Connell for his 25 years of service to the public. Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. followed by the Roast and music for dancing by the Statesmen.

VBS with lights out

Monday evening's storm put the lights out at Northmoreland Baptist Church in Centermoreland where the first night's session of the Daily Vacation Bible School was being held but that didn't put an end to the evening's program. After the lights had gone out, children of the school and faculty sauntered upstairs to the church, lit some candles and finished the evening with singing and a missionary story.

Pastor James May, who is coordinator of the school, was well pleased with the first evening's attendance. About 70 children from the nursery class up through teenagers attended the first night's session.

Classes will continue this evening and tomorrow evening, and the closing program will be presented at the evening service Sunday at 7:30 when songs, recitations and a display of the craftwork will take place.

Mrs. Robert Statnick is the missionary story teller; Mrs. Norene Spangenburg is serving as secretary. Craftworkers and assistants include Mrs. Janet Taylor, Mrs. Lois Button, Mrs. Sheila Wideman and Ralph Jones.

Faculty members include the following: nursery, Teri Russell, Mrs. Arla Charney; pre-kindergarten, Mrs. Beth Jones; kindergarten, Mrs. Gloria Campbell, Mrs. Karen Rowlands; primary girls, Mrs. Ellen May; primary boys, Mrs. Anne Malkemes, Mrs. Marilyn Race; junior girls, Michael and Barbara Rowlands; junior boys, Mrs. Carol Montross; teenagers, William Taylor.

Irem Temple Chanters will perform Sunday

Irem Temple summer concert series presents Irem Temple Chanters Sunday evening, July 27, at 8 p.m. on the Irem Temple C.C. Pavilion. The concerts are free and the public is invited.

The Chanters are one of the oldest units in Irem Temple and emanated from an early ceremonial group known as "the Bedouin Choir" consisting of 30 or more singers. Today they are acclaimed as awards receivers in international and regional sessions.

They have also excelled in marching and recently gained first place over all units. They sang the national anthem the past three years on Wilkes-Barre Day at Veterans Stadium, the home of the "Phillies" the director is Merle R. Edwards. William V. Lewis is president and Donald S. Anthony, accompanist.

Rev. Edmund L. John, pastor of Wyoming Avenue Christian Church, Kingston, will conduct the vespers service.
