

St. Therese's news

First Friday masses will be offered in St. Therese's R.C. Church at Shavertown tomorrow morning at 9 and in the evening at 5:30. Rev. Father Joseph Sammons, pastor, has announced. Confessions of the faithful will be heard before each mass.

All CCD classes at St. Therese's R.C. Church will resume Saturday and Sunday.

Family appointment calendars for 1981 are being offered for sale. Proceeds will go to the Extension Mission Society and the Home Missions. The calendar is religious, contemporary and useful. The date pad remains uncluttered, mentioning only the important feasts and leaving space for personal notations or appointments. The calendar pictures, each with a scriptural message, reveal everyday life as simple but with a depth of meaning.

The annual Turkey Roundup sponsored by members of St. Therese's R.C. Church last week was successful and the committee in charge has expressed thanks and appreciation to all those, who helped in any way, to make the affair a success. Prize winners at the Turkey Roundup were Marian Woolbert, Mrs. Albert Jenkins, Henry Yankowski, John Stubeda, Joseph Levi, Stephen Waldow, Flo Stella, Helen Matlawski, Michael Burba and Tony Fannick.

Ryan Jamieson, infant son of Wayne Williams and Sharyn Schutz Williams; Adam Stephen, infant son of Robert Malak and Claudia Worden Malak, and David Ezra, infant son of Scott Griffith and Janet Gabel Griffith.

Christmas wafers will be on sale after all masses every week in St. Therese's Church. Wafers are $1.50 for a package of four.

It was announced on Sunday that the Bishop O'Reilly Drama Club, in conjunction with the music department of Bishop O'Reilly High School, will present Cole Porter's shipboard musical comedy, "Anything Goes," on Saturday and Sunday evenings with curtain time both evenings at 8 p.m. Tickets may be obtained from any cast member or at the door.

CM men cagers

College Misericordia Highlander men's cagers will see Keystone Conference play for the first time when they host the opening conference game against Alvernia College this Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Misericordia gymnasium.

The Misericordia cagers began the season last weekend at the Binghamton Invitational Tournament against SUNY-Binghamton and Brooklyn College. Although Misericordia lost both games, Coach Szela is very positive about the upcoming game, "Our team has formed a solid foundation, our freshman have gained invaluable experience and I think the team will see improvement through every game," commented Coach Szela. "Alvernia has a transition team, and I think there will be a lot of scoring in the game against our Keystone Conference competition."

The game against Alvernia will bring more experience to the young Misericordia team for their next game against Philadelphia Pharmacy on Thursday, Dec. 4, another home game for the Highlanders.

Dr. Sieminski EXPANDS HEARING AID SERVICE

Dr. Louis R. Sieminski, audiologist, announces the expansion of his private practice of audiology and hearing aid service. He will maintain his office at the Nesbitt Medical Arts Building, 534 Wyoming Avenue in Kingston, and recently has opened an office at 1601 Mulberry Street in Berwick. Each office is fully equipped to expertly evaluate the needs of hearing-impaired children and adults.

Dr. Sieminski specializes in professional hearing testing, modern hearing aid dispensing and industrial hearing services.

He is a graduate of Swoyersville High School and West Virginia University, where he received his B.S. degree in Speech Pathology. Dr. Sieminski received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in Audiology from Temple University in Philadelphia.

Dr. Sieminski is a member of the American, Northeastern Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania Speech and Hearing Associations, and holds a certificate of Clinical Competence in Audiology from the American Speech and Hearing Association. He is also a Pennsylvania licensed hearing aid dealer.

Presently, Dr. Sieminski is a member of the consulting staffs of Nesbitt Hospital, Mercy Hospital and Berwick Hospital. He is also a consultant for the Luzerne Intermediate Unit and is the project director for a pre-school program for hearing impaired children.

Dr. and Mrs. Sieminski and son, Jason, reside at 59 South Beech Road, Birchwood Hills in Plains. Mrs. Sieminski is the former Libby Brominski, daughter of President Judge and Mrs. Bernard C. Brominski of Swoyersville, and Dr. Sieminski is the son of Mrs. Lawrence Casey of Swoyersville and the late Charles Sieminski.

Appointments can be made Monday thru Friday by calling 287-8649 or 288-5944.
