BRIDGETTE

'Why do they shoot horses'

by Bridgette Correale

Am I glad this weather warmed up. If the freezing weather stayed one more day - this column would have been brought to you via satellite from Hawaii where the only ice I'd see would be floating in my Mai Tai. Enough of this "thermometer dropping below freezing."

Belated birthday wishes to Pat Farrell who honored a birthday Jan. 14.

Mrs. Elsie Smith of England will be returning to her native land this coming Sunday after spending several months with her son Roy and family. Thanks to Mrs. Elsie for sharing her beautiful wit with us and our best for a safe journey and hopes for a future visit.

Best wishes to Lois and Dick Ide. The couple will honor their 31 wedding anniversary, Jan. 23.

January 15-21 is Men Watchers Week. I don't know if it's the men that will do the watching or the women. Who cares - enjoy, enjoy.

Thursday, Jan. 22, many Back Mountain residents will join the 'March for Life Rally' in Washington, D.C. Several bus loads will team up with the thousands of people who will march against abortion.

Special birthday greetings to our Commare Yolanda Tomaselli who will celebrate a birthday, Jan. 21.

Jack and Elly Thompson recently returned from a vacation in Florida. While touring the sunshine state, they visited with former Back Mt. residents, Don and Fran Hale and family. The Hales, whom we still miss, love Florida and send their best regards to all of us.

Happy to note that Geri Kerkowski is home following her stay at Wilkes-Barre General Hospital.

Friday evening's TV episode of The Hulk, brought much joy to many of Northeastern Pennsylvania residents, especially Alex and Annette Rebar. Their son, A.J. Rebar, co-starred with Bill Bixby and Lou Ferrigno as Clyde.

With our hostages freed - don't stop praying for them or their families. They need our prayers now more than ever.

Considering nothing that I planned to do this weekend came about, like putting the Christmas decorations away, house clean, cook a four-five course dinner, decide on the fabric for the diningroom window, attend Gate of Heaven basketball game, (who cares about the laundry!) I still had a nice weekend. Notice I said "I had a nice weekend." Vin threw a something or other out on his leg and has been limping from chair to bed to floor all weekend.

Not taking this as a joke because it sounds and looks painful but if you were around here you would laugh too. If he's walking and gets the pain, he bangs on anything that's close to him. If he's laying down, he starts laughing. I asked him "Why are you laughing?" he said, "Would you prefer to hear me swear?"

The best came when I was clearing the kitchen he popped in and said, "Do you know why they shoot horses?" With all that went on with him not feeling up to himself - who cares why they shoot horses. (Could I tell him that!) So I asked, "Why do they shoot horses?" "Cause they are in a lot of pain." "Should I shoot you?" "Do I look like a horse?" On that note I went in the garage and laughed until I cried.

Ice fishermen must obtain permit

Ice fishermen wishing to leave their huts up overnight on the ice at Harveys Lake must obtain a permit from the borough, according to borough secretary Edward Dubil.

Dubil said that a fisherman will have to pay $25 to get the permit and that $20 of that sum will be refunded if the fisherman removes the hut himself by March 15. No refund will be made if the borough has to remove the hut.
