

Dr. William Price appointed to PSBA

Dr. William E. Price, who resides at Chase Corners, Jackson Township, has been appointed to the Pennsylvania School Boards Association Commission to evaluate Federal Involvement in the public schools.

Since 1925 the PSBA established several commissions to address board issues of concern to local public school officials. All of these commissions contributed greatly to an understanding of pertinent educational issues and provided helpful direction for school officials in their local decision-making process. All also had an impact on the national scene.

The commission to evaluate Federal Involvement in the public schools intends to study and recommend the following:

- Reduce federal intrusion into the public schools.
- Convert most federal educational aid programs into block grants.
- Return to the states and local school districts responsibility for public educational programs and the resources that accompany them.

The Commission will meet at least three times during 1981. The meetings will be held in the Harrisburg area. PSBA president Eugene Garvey will serve as chairperson of the Commission. Since 1975, Dr. Price has served as the Director of State and Federal Programs for the Luzerne Intermediate Unit 18. In that capacity, he has procured more than 3 million dollars in state and federal programs for the Luzerne Intermediate Unit.

A graduate of Lake-Lehman High School, Price received his BS degree in Secondary Education from Bloomsburg State College, his MA in American History at the University of Scranton, and his Ph.D. in History from Kent State University, Ohio.

During the past 20 years, Dr. Price has held various positions in the educational profession. From 1961 to 1965, he served as a teacher of Social Studies in the Dallas School District. Upon leaving Dallas, Dr. Price joined the faculty of King's College as an assistant professor of history and served in that capacity for 10 years. In 1975 he joined the administration staff of the Luzerne Intermediate Unit.

In addition to his professional responsibility, Dr. Price has been active in many community endeavors that included serving as a school director for the Dallas School District.

Twp. zoning board denies Baur

Dallas Township Zoning-Hearing Board turned thumbs down on a request from John Baur for a special exception. Baur owns and operates the Treat food and ice cream store on Route 309. Presently, he also operates a miniature golf range behind the Treat. He plans to eliminate the golfing enterprise and build a mini-mall on his 1.09 acres.

A request for a side and backyard exception was made by Baur so he could start construction of a 40x35 feet unit. Later he hopes to add eight more stores. Each store would be 20x35 feet for specialty shops.

Baur wanted to change the 15-foot side yard requirements to five feet and the 40 foot requirement to 20 feet. Although the board turned his application down, Baur can get a permit to build the two store unit by readjusting his side yard requirements. Baur told the board that if they should veto his application, he intended to apply for a permit.

The stores would be classified as a shopping center as soon as he rented them and would come under shopping center regulations.

The board questioned the possibility of a traffic hazard and parking problem. The Treat entrance and exit are on a knoll past the bridge on Route 309, scene of many accidents. The stores would be located at the rear of the lot. In order to build additional units special permits are required.

The Dallas Township Board of Supervisors formally requested a grant from the Department of Commerce of Pennsylvania under the provisions of the Community Facilities Act, to be used to assist Ecumenical Enterprises, Inc. in building a fire protection pond at its Meadows Geriatric Center. Price tag of the pond is $140,000.

Construction will cost $120,000; sub-surface investigation, $5,000, and engineering survey, $15,000. The grant will cover $50,000 of the total. EEI will supply an additional $60,000 with the remaining $30,000 coming from an additional grant.
