Templins 5th reunion

The fifth annual reunion of the Templin family was held recently (Aug. 2-5) at the Oakland Beach Golf Club, Conneaut Lake, with 38 attending. Fred and Shirley Templin, Robin and Kevin, Mary T. Reese, Tom and Marian Templin and Marian's mother, Mrs. Helen Dougherty, Fred and Evelyn Eck, Shavertown, and Jeanne and Charles Maxwell, drove to the lake.

At a rest stop near Bellefonte, Freddie Templin joined the group for lunch and then returned to Penn State College where he is attending summer school. At Conneaut Lake, the group was met by Bill and Helen Templin, from Boulder, Colo. by Philip and Barbara Templin, Oakmont, and their sons, John, Houston, Texas, and David, New York City. Later in the afternoon, Lambert Swingle, Dallas, arrived from Riviera Beach, Fla. where he had been visiting his niece, Peggy Reese Congdon and her husband, Peter, on their boat, "Valentine".

Also attending were Richard and Fern Templin, Mrs. Shirley T. Vigarino, her friend, Scot, and her sons, Tommy, Frankie, and Philip, and Marie T. and Russell

Miketa, and daughters, Sandy and Allison, of Girard, Ohio; Tom and Janie Templin, daughters, Tiffany and Tawny, Columbiana, Ohio; and Rick Templin, and children, Erich and Karen, Vienna, Ohio.

Robin Templin's girl friend from Erie was a guest on Sunday and Robin returned to Erie with her for a few days.

On Tuesday, Aug. 4 the 42nd wedding anniversary of Jeanne and Charles Maxwell was celebrated. That afternoon, a group drove to Akron, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Sara Cain, sister of the late Mrs. Edith Templin. Mrs. Cain attended last year's reunion, but has since had hip surgery.

Foreign students seek hosts

Qualified host families are now being sought throughout the area for high school exchange students arriving this summer for a year of study in local secondary schools.

The teen-agers from 23 countries around the world have been chosen to participate in Youth For Understanding (YFU) by their national committees, have had at least two years of English, and come with their own spending money and insurance. They will be oriented in their home countries before arriving in the United States.

Among the students will be:

URBAN WALTER, 17 years old from Solothurn, Switzerland. Urban plays the guitar in a band. He is involved in sports such as tennis, handball, skiing, windsurfing, and canoeing. Urban has traveled extensively throughout Europe, and is interested in pursuing a career in the languages and history of other countries.

These students are eager to live the life of a United States teenager and to become an active family member. Past and current YFU host families are enthusiastic about the benefits received from hosting.

Youth for understanding is a non-profit student exchange organization that has brought the experience of international friendship to students and families for 30 years. If you are interested in hosting a student, contact: Tome Boe, Youth For Understanding, (215)-646-5266 (collect).

Walter Kizma of Vernon has added a 60-foot addition to his dairy operation along Route 292. He is one area farmer who has confidence in the future of dairying. Incidentally, the Kuzma place is one of the showplaces of the Back Country. Each year the Kuzma place is ablaze with color from phlox, petunias and other large displays of flowers.

While we're passing out kudos for showplaces, we want to list the names of Mr. and Mrs. George Kromelbein of Carverton where Orange Road and Carverton Road meet. For a beautiful display of summer flowers in colorful bloom, the Kromelbein place is outstanding at the gateway to the 'Back Country.' The Montross girls, Ruth and Florence, at the intersection of Schoonover Road and Demunds Road near the eastern entrance to Centermoreland also have a nice floral display in full bloom. Kudos also are due Mrs. Cleo Faux, whose home in Vernon is one of the area's showplaces, especially at this time of the year with its colorful floral display.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Montross of Centermoreland returned last evening after attending a business conference in Syracuse, N.Y. on Monday, and taking in the Empire State Farm Days at Dryden, N.Y. yesterday. Ted is the well known Centermoreland farm equipment dealer.

Congregation of Northmoreland Baptist Church will hold a business meeting this evening following the evening gospel service at 7:30.

Lake-Lehman Band News

I hate to begin on a sad note, but there are only three and a half weeks left until school begins. With September 1 approaching quickly, our attention has to turn toward fall fund raisers. This week all band members received raffle tickets by mail. The prizes are a Grandfather clock, a porcelain mantel clock, a clock radio and two wrist watches. Sounds great and well worth a one dollar investment.

More information on our stand at the Fall Fair. Louise Arnold announced that the Band Sponsors booth will sell ice cream, fudge, and raffle tickets. Workers will be needed to dip ice cream and ladies to serve customers. Anyone willing to help, please call Louise to arrange for a day and time. The winning raffle tickets will also be drawn on Sept. 13th.

Everyone thinks that the Sponsors are the only part of the Lake Lehman Band to make money, but we are fortunate to have a good group of working youngsters. Did you know that, under the leadership of John Hudak, the seniors sold refreshments at a recent jazz concert held in the Back Mt.? Profits went into the treasury. They also have more ideas for this winter. Their projects are conducted with very little assistance from the sponsors.

Don't forget the bus trip to the bargain outlets in Reading on August 15th. Call Edna Yatsko or Marion Kasko for information or to reserve a bus seat.

Kondracki Son

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kondracki announce the birth of a son, Bradley Louis Kondracki, born June 29 in Edison, N.J. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Goeringer, Shrine Acres, Dallas. Bradley Louis is the first child of the Kondrackis.
