Planning decision to be appealed

Rita Spar, Fox Hollow, and Joseph Schroeders have decided to appeal the decisions of the Dallas Township Planning Commission in turning down their applications. Mrs. Spar applied for a variance to use her home as an office for electrolysis treatments. Her application was denied. The objections of her neighbors in the development had impact on the commission's decision.

Mr. Schroeders applied for a variance to build 20 condominium units off a section of Route 309 adjacent to the Brookfield Apts. The commission also turned his application down. Atty. Robert Scovell represents

Mr. Schroeders. Judge Podcasy has indicated that he must have a more concise brief to read and so Atty Frank Townend, solicitor for Dallas Township will have his secretary take notes on the matter at the September 21 session of the Planning Commission.

Truck, car sought

Bids will also be advertised for a new police cruiser and a one-ton dump truck. These bids will be opened on Sept. 21. The present cruiser has over 100,000 miles and needs replacing.

A terminal which will connect the Dallas Township Police Office to the communications center has been installed in the township building and it is hoped to be in working order shortly. It will enable the police to get data on individuals
