

Wyoming Massacre - '81

Dallas tied for lead

BY MIKE POLK

What seemed to some, who stayed for the second half of Saturday's game between Dallas Area and Wyoming Area Warriors at the Dallas stadium, like the 1981 edition of the Wyoming Massacre, was convincing proof that the Mountaineers 'can make it big this year' in high school football.

And judging from Saturday's performance against the defending champion Wyoming Area Warriors, which Dallas won, 26-0, Rybak's troops overcame one of their 'big' hurdles in a thrilling second half that saw the Mountaineers tally four touchdowns and pickup an extra two points as the Mounts chalked up their second win in as many starts.

Dallas is now tied for the lead in the Wyoming Valley Conference with a record of 2-0 with the two big city schools, Coughlin and Meyers. One of the Mounts biggest tests - although the Mountaineers' schedule this year is enough to give one a cardiac arrest from week to week - comes Friday evening when Dallas faces Coach Jim Fennel's Valley West Spartans on the latters' field. Valley West was upset Friday by Mickey Gorham's Meyers Mohawks, 36-30, after leading at halftime, 20-6, and will be looking for revenge at the Mounts expense.

The second half of Saturday's game, depending on whether you were sitting on the Dallas or Wyoming sides of the field, was a thriller. After a scoreless first half, the Mountaineers ran up their first score when Greg Kravitsky, the 205 pound, 5'9" Dallas fullback, carried for 44 yards for a Dallas TD that climaxed a 71-yard drive with the clock showing 3:18 remaining in the third period. The try for two extra points missed, and Dallas went into the final quarter with a 6-0 lead.

Things really began exploding in the final quarter, and the Mounts were rolling. Dallas staged a 60-yard drive to paydirt with Clarke Lewis tossing a pass to big Andy Manusky, Dallas' 6-5, 200 pound end, in the end zone for the second Dallas tally. Steve Federici, the Mounts helmsman, who starred on defense, then tossed to Bordley for a two-pointer and sent Dallas ahead with a 14-0 count.

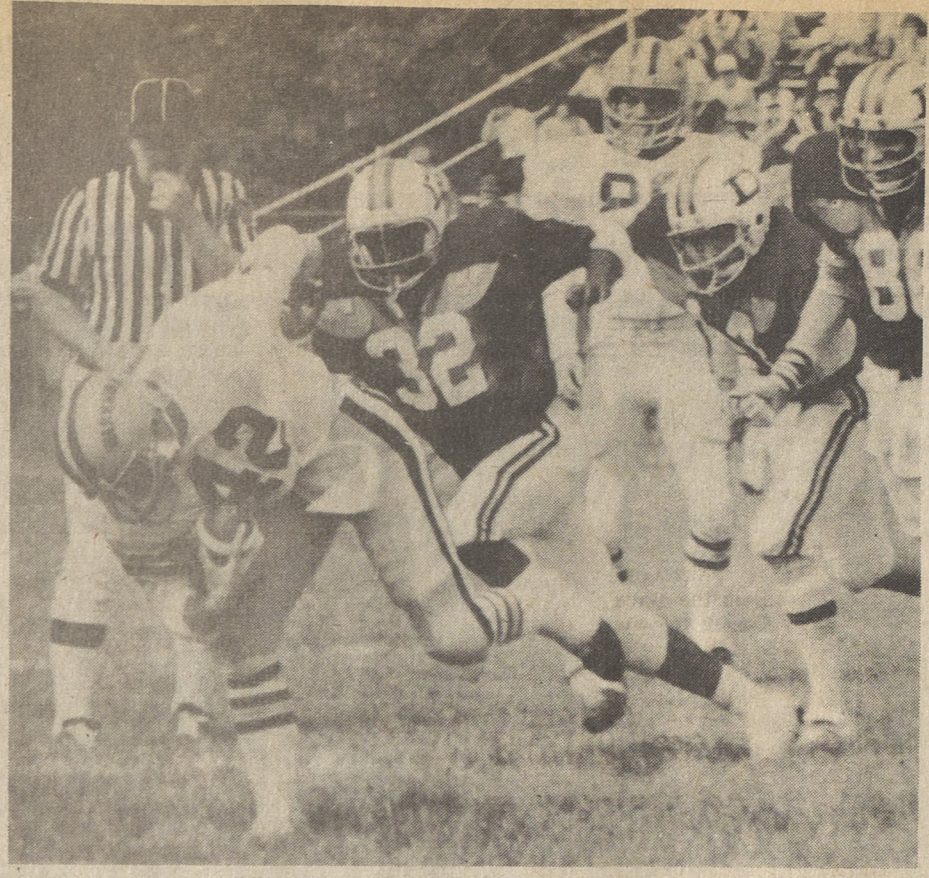

But Wyoming Area wasn't giving up. Coach Paul Marranca's Warriors, showing a lot of the same spirit that sent Wyoming through an undefeated 11-0 season last year, went to the air in an attempt to get back into the game but the Mounts weren't to be denied.

Fired up and holding a 14-0 lead, Dallas intercepted two Wyoming aeriels and turned both turnovers into scores in the waning minutes. Dave Bolton, the Mounts 5'10", 160 pound Junior back, picked off the first of Dallas Area's two interceptions, and scooted 55 yards to the Warriors' five-yard line from where 'Stormin' Norman' Bordley took it in for the score. Dallas tried again for a two-pointer via the aerial route but the attempt failed.

Minutes later, another aerial attempt by Wyoming with time running out, was blotted when Bordley intercepted Chuck Manganiello's attempted aerial and gave Dallas fans a few more thrilling moments by racing 70-yards into paydirt.

Dallas out-played the Warriors in all phases of the game. The Mounts chalked up 12 first downs to Wyoming Area's nine; chaked up 212 yards rushing in 45 attempts against only 63 in 27 attempts by the Warriors. Mounts suffered a bit from penalties, losing 80 yards on seven penalties as against 65 yards on seven penalties by the Warriors. On the positive side, Dallas intercepted three Wyoming aeriels and Federici's tossing was especially accurate. None of Federici's passes were intercepted. Dallas' one turnover came on a fumble but Wyoming couldn't cash in on the opportunity.
