

Shower the bride with love

Having a bridal shower for your favorite bride-to-be? What could be more romantic than this heart-bedecked cake? Its good looks come easily with a minimum of effort.

An angel food cake (bought or prepared from a mix) is cut into three layers and then sprinkled with Amaretto di Saronno, the liqueur beloved by all who are young at heart.

The cake is then filled with pistachio and strawberry ice cream or the guest of honor's favorite flavors. All of this goodness is topped off with a drift of whipped cream garnished with chocolate hearts.

The result is an appropriate and delicious pairing off of ice cream and cake for a most happy occasion.

SARONNO SHOWER CAKE

- 1 angel food cake
- 1/2 cup Amaretto di Saronno
- 1 pint pistachio ice cream
- 1 pint strawberry ice cream
- 2 cups (1 pint) heavy cream
- 6 ounces (1 package) semisweet real chocolate morsels

With a sharp serrated knife using a sawing motion, cut the cake into three layers.

Sprinkle layers with 6 tablespoons of the Amaretto di Saronno.

Place one layer on a serving platter.

Cut ice cream into slices and place pistachio ice cream on bottom layer.

DELIGHT THE BRIDE-TO-BE with this scrumptious Saronno Shower Cake. A splash of Amaretto di Saronno, a taste of the Renaissance, gives it an intriguing flavor.

Top with second cake layer and a layer of strawberry ice cream.

Top with third cake layer. Place in freezer.

In a bowl, mix heavy cream and remaining Amaretto di Saronno and beat until very thick.

Frost the sides and top of the cake and replace in freezer.

Melt chocolate over very low heat until smooth.

Spread chocolate in a 1/4-inch thick layer on foil and chill until chocolate hardens.

With a small cookie cutter, cut hearts out of chocolate and place on top of cake.

Freeze cake until ready to serve.

Makes one 9-inch cake.
