Dallas High begins parent-student program

The Dallas Senior High has started a program this year of inviting parents to participate in a scheduled student-parent session on the Guidance Informational System Computer. The computer has been in the Dallas Senior High for approximately six years. The use of the computer was initiated as part of a federally funded program entitled DIGS. The computer has been successfully used by students for searching careers and college information.

With the recent rising costs of a college education, the guidance department felt that it would be valuable to encourage parents to become more directly involved in computer searches, especially for college information. Parents are being sent individual invitations as the eleventh graders are scheduled on the computer. Any questions concerning the program can be directed to the Dallas High School guidance department 675-5201.

Make and Take Night a success

Monday night was very successful for Lake-Lehman's E.S.E.A. Title I Make and Take Night. The evening was the fourth of its kind within the last three school years. Continued attendance by parents shows that they too are very interested in developing cooperation between home and school to help their children.

All materials presented were made by the Lake-

Lehman E.S.E.A. Title I Reading and Math staff and the Lehman-Jackson PTA. The staff was on hand Monday night to aid parents in choosing the correct materials to meet their children's specific needs. They were also ready to lend a hand to parents in the making of those materials. These things were made and carried home Monday night, ready for immediate use.
