Merry Christmas... in July

BY JOAN KINGSBURY
 The weekend of July 24-25 my family enjoyed a unique experience, Christmas in July at Camp Onawandah. Arnie Garinger, owner of Camp Onawandah, who is known to all the campers as Uncle Arnie, had decorated appropriately to get everyone in the holiday mood, including setting up a Christmas tree in the Recreation Center. Campers joined in the spirit of things by decorating their sites with Christmas lights, candles, reindeer and Christmas trees. Some, like us, set up the now outdated silver tree. Ours was especially nice since it was decorated with construction paper ornaments and chains made by my daughters Nicole and Nancy. (Of course I'm prejudiced.)

 My husband Bill and I are relatively new campers, so its always fun to spend a weekend with more seasoned campers. This weekend was spent with our good friends Diane, Woody, Jeff and Wendy Slusser and Diane's niece Kim; Herschel, Merrily, Brendt and Mark Hileman, all of Nescospeck.
 Anyone who has camped knows that eating is a big part of camping. For our "holiday" feast we enjoyed Herschel's Baked Chicken and Campfire Potatoes, which were delicious. It was a very hot day to slave over a hot campfire, but Herschel did, enabling us to have a delicious meal.

 Saturday night at 8:30 an exciting thing happened. Santa Clause took time off from his busy schedule to visit Camp Onawandah. Uncle Arnie gathered everyone in the rec center, then led the youngsters in a rousing rendition of "Here comes Santa Claus" in hopes that Santa would hear the singing and make an appearance. He did and brought each boy and girl a gift. Our two-year old Billy was thrilled with this part of the weekend.
 Snacking is the thing when spending time around the campfire at night. Merrily mentioned the word chocolate and S'Mores came to everyone's mind. For those who don't know about this Girl Scout treat, S'Mores are made by placing a toasted marshmallow on top of a candy bar placed between two graham crackers. The hot marshmallow melts the chocolate making a sticky, chocolatey snack that is "mmm, mmm," good.
 Sunday morning begins with church services. Both Protestant services and Catholic Mass are held in the recreation center. Following church, it was in the pool for all the kids. In fact, the entire weekend was spent enjoying Onawandah's pool. Another fun spot is the camp store where they have the greatest variety of penny candy and a very pleasant lady who waits patiently for each youngster to choose his purchase.

Sunday afternoon Diane and Merrily made homemade ice cream. Nothing tastes better on a hot summer day than homemade ice cream. Everyone had their fill since we had two full ice cream freezers, one with vanilla ice cream, the other with strawberry.
 Checkout time came all too soon for everyone but Monday's work day so it was down with the silver tree, fold up the camper and head for home. Even though it seemed to end too soon, Christmas in July was a fun-filled weekend. Thank's a lot Uncle Arnie, we'll be seeing you.

HERSCHEL'S BAKED CHICKEN
 2 small chickens
 2 hot rocks, about the size of a fist
 salt pepper desired seasonings
 aluminum foil
 Place rocks, which have been washed, in the campfire to get very hot, allowing them to heat about a half hour. When rocks become very hot, remove them carefully from the fire. With tongs, put rock inside seasoned chicken. Cover chicken with foil. Place chicken in campfire, turning it occasionally until done, about 1 hour.

CAMPFIRE BAKED POTATOES
 4 potatoes, scrubbed
 aluminum foil
 Wrap potatoes in foil, place in campfire with chicken. Bake, turning occasionally. Sweet potatoes also taste good prepared this way.

S'MORES
 graham crackers chocolate bars marshmallows
 Toast marshmallows over the campfire or grill. Break chocolate bars apart. Place a piece of chocolate bar on top of a graham cracker, place toasted marshmallow on top of chocolate, then top with another graham cracker. The hot marshmallow melts the chocolate, making a delicious treat.

HOME MADE ICE CREAM
 4 c. lt. cream
 5 c. milk
 4 eggs
 2 c. sugar
 1 T. vanilla
 1/2 t. salt
 Blend together thoroughly and freeze according to manufacturer's directions.
