Bishop O'Reilly homecoming this week

The annual Homecoming Weekend of Bishop O'Reilly High School, Kingston, has been slated for Oct. 8 and 9. The festivities, featuring a "Rock & Roll Review" theme, will begin on Friday afternoon when students will enjoy a pep rally in the auditorium. At that time the Homecoming Queen candidates will be presented to the student body.

A parade will kick off Saturday's activities, with cheerleaders, strutters, majorettes, flag twirlers, the school band, color guard, class floats and Homecoming Queen candidates in attendance. The parade will leave the school at 12:15 and follow Hoyt Street to Wyoming Valley West Stadium, where the Queensmen of Bishop O'Reilly will meet Lackawanna Trail. Kick-off for the football game is at 1:30.

That evening a Homecoming dance will be held from 8-11 in the school gym. At that time the name of the Homecoming Queen for 1982 will be announced in the finale to the weekend festivities.

Jay-C-Ettes' Show will feature fashions for the family

The Back Mountain Jay-C-ettes are busy making plans for their upcoming fashion show entitled "Patters of Autumn". The show will be held Wednesday, Oct. 27 at the Irem Temple Country Club.

Fashions for the entire family will be featured from three area businesses in the Back Mountain area: Diana Designs, Humphreys' and Adam's Men Shop. Models for the show are from Total Women and several of the Jay-C-ettes children. The featured commentator for the evening will be Karen Boback, a former Mrs. Pennsylvania.

Positions filled

Three members of the Dallas Post staff have been reassigned as of the October 6 edition. Sheila Hodges, formerly Production Manager has been named Circulation Manager. L.R. Barletto is now operations manager.

And MaryAnn Kelly is Associate Editor.

Although changes have been made in the internal structure, the staff and management of the Dallas Post will continue to provide the best in local coverage every week.

General Hospital holds childbirth classes

The birth of a child is a sharing experience for couples as they prepare for birth together. Because many couples want to understand the positive experience of childbirth, classes have become very popular among expectant mothers and fathers.

Wilkes-Barre General Hospital will begin its seven week series of childbirth classes on Monday, Oct. 11 in the hospital's dining room. The classes are held each Monday from 7-9 p.m. and are conducted by registered nurses from the Obstetrics Department. The class is open to all expectant parents regardless of the hospital in which they plan to deliver.

A comprehensive explanation of childbirth from the final trimester, through labor and delivery, to infant nutrition after birth is covered in the course. Relaxation and breathing techniques, plus conditioning exercises are also covered.

Couples planning to attend the course should do so in conjunction with regular visits to a physician. To register or request additional information, contact Wilkes-Barre General Hospital's Department of Education.

Sister Regina Kiel will exhibit jewelry

Jeweler and metalsmith Sister Regina Kiel, RSM, of Mercy Center, Dallas, will present her work during an exhibit Oct. 3-30 in the Suraci Gallery, located in the Learning Resources Center of Marywood College.

The exhibit, which also will include works by sculptor Robert LaBobgah, Marywood's artist-in-residence, and Marywood's Dorflinger glass collection, will open with a public reception Oct. 3, 3-5 p.m.. Admission is free.

Sister Regina's will display cast gold and precious gem pieces - rings, pins and necklaces. Included also will be raised brass goblets with silver-plated interiors, cast brass and bronze, cast sterling silver and carved black walnut.

Sister Regina, who has taught jewelry making at Marywood on the graduate level, has also taught at College Misericordia. She has a master of arts degree, with a major in jewelry making and a minor in fabrics from Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Her bachelor of arts degree, in art education, was earned at the same institution. She also holds a bachelor of science degree, with a major in elementary education and a minor in art.

The artist, who has a jewelry and sculpture studio in Dallas, does individual commissions and awards for various groups.

The works by Sister Regina and LaBobgah, along with the Dorflinger glass, will be joined later by works created by Marywood graduates. Their exhibit will open with a reception from 1 to 5 p.m. on Oct. 16, the date of Marywood's Homecoming.

The gallery's regular hours are as follows: daily, 1-4 p.m., and additionally, Tuesday and Thursday, 7-9 p.m.. Admission is free.

Auxiliary plans fair

The Shavertown branch of the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will again sponsor the annual "Holiday Fair" assisted by seven other area branches.

Representatives from all eight branches met recently to discuss plans for the fair.

This year's fair theme will be "Happy 70th Anniversary Nesbitt" and will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 3 and Thursday, Nov. 4 in the auditorium of Nesbitt Medical Arts Building, 534 Wyoming Avenue, Kingston.

The Junior, Dorrance-ton, Forty Fort, Kingston, Luzerne, Shavertown, Wyoming, and Rural branches of the Hospital Auxiliary will feature unique booths and stands, displaying various holiday items for sale. The items will include knitted goods, homemade candy, Christmas tree ornaments, stuffed toy animals, miniature wooden crafts, quilts, Indian dolls, and decorative shell craft items. In addition, a variety of dried flower and plant arrangements will be available.

The "Holiday Fair", which is a very special Auxiliary project, has become an annual family event for adults and children of all ages.
