One chance to do such is to enroll the child in the Yuletide 4-H project! This self-learning project is designed for a one-to-one "4-H YOU-TWO" experience between the child and a parent or other adult. It could also be utilized by families, Sunday School teachers with their classes, Big Brothers or Sisters with their little brothers or sisters or in youth groups and clubs or 4-H clubs. The project is ideal for the family unit who would like to get closer together in a positive way while learning about their "roots". The objective is to identify and evaluate the way heritage, or "roots", enhance cultural continuity and quality of life during the Christmas or Hanukkah season. The Yuletide 4-H project is available at no cost to young people meeting 4-H enrollment guidelines. Although the project would be of interest to any age, it is geared primarily for the 8 to 19 year old. The guidelines include that persons register in the 4-H office, in person or by mail, by giving names, addresses, ages and phone numbers of all who will be participating in the program. At least one adult must agree to work with the children. The project requires a minimum of three informal or formal get-togethers. Completed projects are turned into the 4-H office and are awarded a 4-H merit ribbon based on the quality of work completed and a 4-H membership card.
