Christmas tea-a lovely afternoon

CHRISTMAS TEA—Everyone in attendance enjoyed the holiday atmosphere, entertainment by the Meadowlarks and visiting the Country Store at Trinity Presbyterian Church's Christmas Tea. (Rod Kaye Photo)

Twenty beautifully decorated tea tables, resplendent with fine chinas and linens, with unique table decorations reflecting the personality of their hostesses greeted the 160 ladies who attended the Christmas Tea at Trinity Presbyterian Church recently.

Preceding the tea was a musical program arranged by Mrs. Virginia Swanson. Featured were the Meadowlarks, under the direction of Don Williams. The group sang many of the traditional Christmas songs and set the mood for the afternoon. Meryl Davis, Catherine Bolinski and Kyoko Steuben shared songs and traditions of their native Wales, Scotland and Japan. Kristen Miller, Minta and Millicent Napier also took part in the program.

After tea, the Country Store gave the ladies an opportunity to browse and purchase lovely handmade gift items such as hand quilted pillows, Calico Cats, dolls, large and small, tree ornaments and homemade candy and fudge. The Country Store was a Closet Boutique project. The Closet is open every Wednesday 10-4 p.m. and sells good used children's clothes and craft items. The proceeds from which finances many local and far-away mission projects. Clothes are also given free in emergency situations and in cases of need. Donations of good used children's clothing are gratefully accepted and tax exempt slips available on request.

Committee for the Christmas Tea was Catherine Bolinski, chairman; Liz Taylor, table and hostess coordinator; Meryl Davis, kitchen; JoAnne Hall and Grace Martin, Country Store; Virginia Swanson, program; the Rev. Andrew Pillarella, Pastor.

Scout awards

Carverton Girl Scout Troop 712 held court of awards, Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. A flag and candlelight ceremony took place. Badges and special awards were given to troop members and rededication took place. The following fifth and sixth graders received the Sign of the Sun, a special award in Scouting:

Susan Wells, Lori Kuhar, Annette Harvey, Lori Ankenbrand, Laura Harper, Michelle Pallas, Jean Marie Novitski, Nicole Zarnoch, Leanne Berlew, Roseanne Rostock.

Members received the scouting Foot Traveler badges. They were Virginia Johnson, Liza Lettie, Angela Orlando and Holly Barkac. Refreshments were served. Gail Wells is troop leader.

Junior women hold candlelight initiation

G.F.W.C. Dallas Jr. Woman's Club held their December Christmas dinner meeting recently at The Castle Restaurant. Following a cocktail hour and dinner, there was a brief business meeting and a formal candlelight ceremony was held for the initiation of two new members into the club. In keeping with the President's theme "A Great Flame Follows a Tiny Spark", each girl lit a candle from the large candle representing the G.F.W.C. Dallas Jr. Woman's Club and its flame of service. They then recited the club membership pledge. The Club Collect was read by the entire group.

Taking part in the ceremony were Kathie Oravitz, president; Valerie Gialanella, membership chairman and new member sponsor, Beth Martin and Gail Smallwood, new members.

Fenner-Biggs wed

Linda Fenner and Thomas Biggs were married Saturday, Dec. 4, at a special service in Neptune Chapel. Dr. Richard Tattersall performed the double ring ceremony. Following a stay in Atlantic City, the couple will reside in Hunlock Creek.
