Chapter I Parents Visit School

Parents of children attending E.C.I.A. Chapter I Reading and Math classes in the Lake-Lehman School District had an opportunity to observe their children in action as classroom visitation day was held April 22.

Invitations had gone home with students at the beginning of the week and parental response was very positive as evidenced by the number of parents who visited. It was a time for parents to better understand what special materials and activities their children are involved with in their remedial reading and math classes.

Reading classes are conducted by Mr. Ladamus, Miss Simonds, and Miss Peiffer at Lehman-Jackson Elementary and Mr. Gizenski at the Junior High.

Those teaching the math classes are Mr. Smith and Mrs. Piatkowski at the Lehman-Jackson Elementary, Mrs. Welter at Ross Elementary and Mrs. Borton at Lake-Noxen Elementary.

The parents of the Advisory Councils in each building very graciously provided refreshments and helped guide visiting parents to the various rooms.

Ihlenfeld Show Opens

College Misericordia's Art Gallery is presenting "Klaus Ihlenfeld, The Sculptor and Collector." The show opened on Sunday, May 1 and will run until June 3. It is open to the public free of charge.

Included in the exhibit are jewelry, pottery, figurines and sculpture, some of which are Ihlenfeld's work, and some are items he has collected from cultures throughout the world.

From the time he was a small child, Ihlenfeld has been collecting works of art. His first collection was of tin figures and soldiers, cast in lead and beautifully painted. Later, his fascination with African art, objects of the Indians of the Americas, and the Oceanic peoples led him into "the distinct and lifelong direction of collecting."

Ihlenfeld's show at College Misericordia will incorporate, in the artist's words, "many wonderful and rare objects... outstanding figurines of high quality and very early origin, jewelries made of semi-precious beads and shells, pottery in the form of vases."

Ihlenfeld says many of his collected objects have been sources of inspiration to him over the years. His work is very similar to that which he collects. He describes the contrast of old and new: "The works of primitive man, some dating as far back as 12,000 years, living side by side with the works of a contemporary artist, and they do not disturb each other. In fact, there is harmony in their quality, beauty and mystery." Born in Berlin, Germany, Ihlenfeld studied at Hochschule fur Bildende Kunst in Berlin. He now lives in Barto, Pa.
