Pritchard is chairman of the 52nd National GYMANFA GANU, Welsh Festival to be held in Wilkes-Barre on Labor Day weekend. The hospitality committee has been planning and preparing for the festival for some time. Recently members spent time making crepe paper daffodils, the national flower of Wales, to be given to all visitors at the festival. Over 3,000 Welsh people are expected to come to Wilkes-Barre on Labor Day weekend for a weekend of "Social and Song." The festivities will include a banquet, tours and visits around the area, a Bilingual Service and a choral event on Sunday afternoon.
