Presidential visit

Travel course planned

The Office of Continuing Education at Luzerne County Community College will offer the popular Travel Agent Career Preparation Course at the college's Educational Conference Center on the main campus in Nanticoke this Fall.

The class will be instructed by Barry Tenenbaum, president, Tenenbaum's Travel Service, Inc., Kingston, and will be held on Tuesday evenings, from 6:30 to 8:30, Sept. 20 through Nov. 8.

For additional information contact the Educational Conference Center at Luzerne County Community College at 829-7476.

LCCC plans program

The Continuing Education Department of Luzerne County Community College will host its annual Part-Time Faculty In-Service Program on Friday, Sept. 9, at the college's Educational Conference Center on the main campus in Nanticoke.

The program, which is held each year at the start of classes, is designed to acquaint new instructors with the various college policies and procedures to follow throughout the school year.

Beginning with a cocktail hour and dinner at 5:30 p.m., the program will include general announcements and introductions by John Pisano, associate dean of continuing education at LCCC.

Course aids finances

If you're having problems managing money, there's something you can do about it.

Luzerne County Community College will offer a "Personal Finance" telecourse over WVIA-TV, Channel 44, on Fridays, from 7 to 7:30 a.m. and on Sundays, from 7:30 to 8 a.m., beginning Sept. 9 through Dec. 4.

For further information on the course, or to register, contact Eleanor Miller, administrative assistant to the academic dean at Luzerne County Community College, 829-7392.

Wilkes gets computer

Computers in the classroom have become commonplace, and the public tends to associate the highly sophisticated machines exclusively with science or science-related courses. Wilkes College, a liberal arts institution, will dispel that concept beginning in the fall, when the newly acquired Data General MV-1000 time-sharing computer system will be used in academic programs in both the sciences and the humanities.

The computer has a capacity of eight million characters of memory, 602 million characters of disc storage, a magnetic tape unit, and a 300 line-per-minute printer. It has the capability of performing over seven million simple arithmetic operations per second and of reading or writing data on disc storage units at the rate of 14 million characters per second.

The program, once fully developed and in place, will be unique in the area, and one of the most important aspects of the MV-1000 is that it will allow Wilkes to put in place a new degree in software engineering and eventually a master's program in engineering.

Health course slated

Among the telecourses to be offered for the Fall Semester at Luzerne County Community College is "Contemporary Health Issues," designed to provide students with the information they need to make sound decisions about the myriad personal health choices they make throughout their lifetime.

The course, which will be offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 7 to 7:30 a.m., now through Dec. 15, over WVIA-TV, Channel 44, will examine topics such as human behavior, obtaining psychiatric help, death, drugs, alcoholism and sexuality.

Information regarding registration for the telecourse, "Contemporary Health Issues," may be obtained by contacting Eleanor Miller, administrative assistant to the dean of academic services at Luzerne County Community College at 829-7382.

Computer course set

The impact of the computer on society is an issue that should concern everyone. Despite all this attention and interest, the computer remains a mystery to many people.

Answers to questions about the computer can now be found in "The Computer Programme," a 10-part series telecourse to be offered this Fall by Luzerne County Community College through WVIA-TV, Channel 44.

The BBC production, distributed in the United States by Films Incorporated, has been scheduled to begin on Friday, Sept. 23, from 2:30 to 3 p.m. The telecourse will be aired weekly through Dec. 2.

For further information, or to register, contact Eleanor Miller, administrative assistant to the academic dean at Luzerne County Community College at 829-7392.

OR course offered

The Office of Continuing Education at Luzerne County Community College, in conjunction with its Operating Room Technology Program, will offer a 64-hour program on Operating Room Nursing for the Fall semester.

The course, which will be offered on Tuesday and Thursdays, Sept. 13 through Nov. 17, from 6 to 9 p.m., is designed to introduce the perioperative role of the registered nurse in the operating room with emphasis on the intra-operative phase.

For further information on the Operating Room Nursing course at Luzerne County Community College, or to register, contact the Office of Continuing Education at 829-7477.

Nurses exams slated

Challenge exams for registered nurses in the Marywood College nursing program will be given Oct. 14 at 8:30 a.m. in Room 117 of the Liberal Arts Center. Exams will be given in the following areas: anatomy, microbiology, chemistry, nutrition, psychology, and sociology.

Registration for the exams will be conducted in the nursing department, located in Regina Hall, on Sept. 19, 20, 21 from 9:30 - 11 a.m. and from 2 - 4 p.m.

For more information about the challenge exams or registration procedures, contact the Marywood College Nursing Department at 348-6275.

Send them BACK TO COLLEGE with a subscription to DALLAS POST

Certainly going away to college can be a rewarding and fun experience, but every student, now and then, becomes a bit lonely for the folks at home. A very welcome visitor on campus will be their hometown paper. They'll enjoy reading about all of the local happenings, the scores of local high school games, news of social happenings and much, much more! A college subscription to this newspaper makes a great "going-away gift" and is easy to arrange. Just use the handy form below and we'll speed their first issue on the way so they'll get all the news. If it's a special gift from you, let us know and we'll send them a gift card so they'll know you're really thinking about them.
