PSU donates gym to Lake-Lehman

At the regular September meeting of the Lake-Lehman Board of School Directors, Jane Griffin, Athletic Director at Penn State University, Wilkes-Barre Campus, presented to Mr. Joseph "Red" Jones, Coordinator of Athletics and Activities, Lake-Lehman School Board, a donation of a Universal Gym. This is a piece of athletic equipment involving weights and various stations for exercising.

Jones commented that this equipment would be a valuable acquisition to Lake-Lehman's strength building program which is available to all athletes, male and female, and that the strength-conditioning program has certainly helped a small school district like Lake-Lehman be competitive with school districts who have larger enrollments and more participating athletes.

Jones acknowledged the fine relationship in both athletics and academics that has existed between Lake-Lehman and Penn State over the past years.

The new Universal Gym will tentatively be placed in the Senior High School Weight Room-Conditioning Room along with the old Universal Gym and other pieces of conditioning equipment.
